ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A.
(By Dorothy Garbutt)

The Y.W.C.A. Service Wives Club met Thursday afternoon in the ladies' lounge at the "Y" with a dozen ladies and seven children present. Mrs. Dunnington won the raffle which was donated by Mrs. Nelson. Tea was served by Mrs. Hepp and Mrs. Dunnington. Several new members were welcomed.

Next Tuesday night the Highway Regiment is holding its monthly dance and will welcome all junior hostesses. Transportation will be at the "Y" as usual.

Mrs. Harold Crowe has come in from Terrace to join her husband who is Y.M.C.A. supervisor at Group Headquarters, R.C.A.F. Mrs. Crowe, while in Prince Rupert, will be on the staff of the Prince Rupert General Hospital.

In the last war it used to be all the style for small girls to have miniature nursing sisters' outfits to wear while small boys swaggered around in Navy and Army suits. They had it all over their little sisters in dash and elan. But today I saw a little girl all togged out like a C.W.A.C. and looking very cute and pretty in her uniform. And didn't she know it too? As the English say—not 'arf she didn't!

Something I'd like to get straightened out in my somewhat limited gray matter and that is—was Thursday or Friday the King's birthday? Prince Rupert celebrated and the local papers said it was Thursday but my I.O.D.E. calendar has the Friday date in red. Besides everyone knows it's really December the 14 so what have you? At that rate it makes my birthday today as mine is two days after the King's. But that would give me two birthdays a year and one is getting to be quite enough thank you.

If you wants chills, creeps and horrors go to "Gaslight" at the Navy Drill Hall tonight. I heard it over the BBC several years ago and my hair stood on end for a week. Most disturbing!

Mrs. Angus Currie and family arrived at Claxton Cannery from Vancouver last night to join Mr. Currie, cannery manager there, for the season.

Mrs. David Douglas, who has been paying a visit to Bella Coola, arrived in the city this morning to spend a week here with her husband before returning to her home in Vancouver.
