

Yanks Beat All Stars

Rest of Women's League Defeated High School Last Night

The Navy Drill Hall was the scene of two fine hoop battles in which the Yanks came through for a 67 to 44 win over the Area All Stars and the Women's League All Stars trounced the High School 19 to 10. They were the last of an interesting series of exhibition games which have been held monthly of late for warily causes.

The Yanks got the opening point right off the bat as Keiner was fouled and he placed the ball deftly through the hoop. MacPhee soon followed for the All Stars. The Yanks set too hot a pace in the first quarter for the locals to keep up with. Time and time again Keiner of the Yanks slipped through the tight defence of the opposition to score. The play of the Yanks was fast and smooth with the ball being flipped from one man to the other and then into the hoop for a tally. The play in the first quarter was exceedingly clean but roughened up considerably in the second. At quarter time the score stood at 19 to 9 for the Yanks.

In the second quarter both teams seemed to get that added urge and dropped them in from all over the floor. With the Yanks starting to pile up points the All Stars' one and only Santerbane tried to keep up with the Yanks and did a pretty good job of it. He placed them in from every angle of the floor. In one of the instances in which the play became very rough, Dominato of the All Stars was ordered to retire to the bench. At half time the score was 41-42 for the Yanks.

The third quarter favored the Acropolis Hill men considerably and they came through for 18 points to the All Stars' 6. The play was fast with many fouls and tip-offs. In this quarter the spotlight switched from Santerbane and Keiner to Lacinia, the Yanks' ace, who rushed through the tight defence to score many points. At three-quarter time the Yanks still held the lead 59-30.

In the fourth and final quarter it appeared as if the spirit of agrandisement rising in the hearts of the All Stars might lead them on to final victory. Throughout the entire quarter the All Stars outscored, out-shot and outplayed the Yanks. Had Angus MacPhee been his old self the sale of the game might have been entirely different. With about five minutes remaining in the quickly vanishing quarter the Yanks began to stall for time and, at the final whistle, were on the long end of 67-44 score.

GIRLS' GAME WAS OPENER

In the Wednesday night opener the Ladies' League All Stars trounced a powerful High School quintet 19-9. The game started very slow with the typical rough and tumble of the women's games. The All Stars led High all the way but High put up a valiant fight to the last. The score at quarter time was 5-1 for the All Stars. At the start of the second quarter High School's Leona Blaine twice broke through the opponents' defence and scored. All this happened in less than a minute. The All Stars soon followed with three points to end the half at 8-5 in their favor.

With a few seconds of play behind her in the third quarter Millie Bill of High calmly placed herself on the halfway line and dropped one through the hoop with skill and agility of a veteran. During the game there were innumerable jump balls and fouls. At three-quarter time the All Stars still held a one-point lead over High Schoolites 8-7.

Throughout the entirety of the final quarter there were countless lay-up shots taken but surprisingly few found their way into the basket. The All Stars seemed to find the much needed pep to continue on to a victory and this they did without much hindrance from High School. In this quarter they more than doubled their previous score, ending up the game with 19 to the High School's 10.

PRESENTATION OF TROPHIES

In the interlude between the games Commander C. M. Cree, R.C.N., and Mrs. Cree made the presentation of the championship trophies to the Little Americas for winning the play-offs; the Yanks, the championship of the League, and to Group 4 W.D.'s for the championship of the Women's League. Following this Commander Cree made a brief speech. At all breaks in the game the R.C. Navy Band gave zest to the evening by elegant rendition of marches. Following the game the National Anthems of both countries were played.

Fight Card Looks Good

Starving Boxing fans in Prince Rupert Are Due For Feast.

After drooping for at least two years for lack of nourishment, fight-starved Prince Rupert boxing fans will be able to grab a few of the right kind of vitamins when the Boiler-makers Athletic Club presents its "Grand Boxing Show" featuring Canada's welterweight champ, Phil Palmer, ex-navy man of Vancouver, and Chito Hernandez, an artist of some repute in the United States mid-west. This and other battles will compose the card at the staff house dining hall on April 29.

Palmer has been hoeing a difficult but increasingly successful row in Bremerton, Portland and Hollywood, and is the pride of manager Ham Antonelli's heart.

"If he hadn't hurt his hand he would have licked Kid Polite in Bremerton last week," Ham wrote us. "Polite is one of the best welterweights in the world."

Hernandez has done most of his fighting in western and middle western states, and has fought all the leading men in his class. There is available here no record of his wins but he must have something on the ball or he would not be covering such mileage to meet a classy fighter like Palmer.

Hernandez is a practising member of the United States Army, so it should not be difficult to forecast where any loose change that the Acropolis Hill boys might have will be laid and we doubt if they have any difficulty finding takers for their wagers.

The Boiler-makers have pulled the stapper on an engaging type of discord.

Men, 30, 40, 50!
