Archbishop of Canterbury . . .

Precocity and a father who was Archbishop of Canterbury sped William Temple, the dead Archbishop of Canterbury from Rugby School to the Church of England's high councils. There he became the life of the "centre" party a fighter for the underdog and an internationally-noted preacher.

The chubby, bespectacled churchman who at the French, Belgians, Norwegians and left them there for days, nounced by Hon. C. D. Howe, age of 12 sought mental relaxation in the philosophy of Immanuel Kant, was at various times president prisoned. There is on the nearby creek slopes an ample growth of timber suitable for mining and construction purposes.

A fair amount of development work has been completed upon the property. This consists of surface stripping, open cuts and the driving of a number of short adits to follow or intercept some mineralized shearings which abound within the oxidized area.

The engineer's report says that favorable structure is characterized by the existence of a number of semi-parallel and steeply dipping shearings which vary in width from two to 10 inches. These shearings tend to occur in groups and there are strong indications that individual shearings tend to converge at depth. and will probably unit not far below the surface:

occurs throughout the country rock but normal occurrences of strongly mineralized vein matter occurs in the shearings encountered in the adits. This vein matter consisting chiefly of zinc blende carries gold values up to one and one-couarter ounces per ton over narrow widths as evidenced by the size of the shearings so far encountered. The adits were driven at creek level which allows the lowest possible elevation for such work.

THE NEED IS GREATER

For total victory he fights a total war. For nothing less will he lay down his arms. For your sake he's willing to gamble on coming through alive. Whether he does or not is decidedly your affair . . .

The imminence of victory has climaxed the responsibilities of the home front. Canada's borrowing needs today are greater, not less. To see the uniformed services get all they need to win with minimum losses, is still our biggest job.
