Style Upheavals

For Postwar Era

LONDON, March 29 0 -A rerolution in women's fashions after the war has been predicted by James Laver, clothes and fashion expert. Speaking to the Royal Society of Arts here he stated that all major wars are followed by fashion upheavals.

After this war he forecast a Ontario. simplification of styles for women, with shorter skirts, raised waistlines and straight lines replacing pre-war curves. Leading the people of the Uni- colors will be pastels, probably of blue and hair styles will be short and 25 per cent of Men, he said, will wear sports clothes for all occasions.

The city council, at its meeting Monday night, gave first readings to a bylaw providing for the exchange of city-owned lots 13 and 14, block 13, section 1. for lots 23 and 24, block 14, section 1, the latter owned by the provincial government. Acquisition of the two lots on Second Avenue which J. A. Lindsay desires to purchase for the erection of a garage. The pair of lots it is proposed to exchange lie across First Street from each other to the north of Second Avenue.

Election

Bruce Micklebargh, who reported to a meeting of the local Labor Progressive Club Monday night, believes a provincial election will be held next spring.

Mr. Mickleburgh is back in Prince Rupert after sitting in the gallery at the session of the Legislature and attending the Labor-Progressive provincial convention and the Shipyard General Workers' postwar rehabilitation conference at Vancouver in both of which latter bodies he was elected to the provincial committee.

"Sandy" Grant Passes Away at New Hazelton at Ripe Age.

NEW HAZELTON, March 29-'Sandy" Grant of New Hazelton was found dead in his cabin at New Hazelton on Friday morning last, having passed away peacefully in his sleep.

Deceased was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, 31 years ago and had come to Canada in his early youth. He had formerly been employed as foreman by a Winnipeg firm of contractors in fencing the right-of-way of the Canadian National and was well known between Winnipeg and Prince Rupert.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. E. Bird of Hazelton in the United Church at New Hazelton on Sunday. An exceptionally large congregation of all denominations testified to the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

Following the service in the church the funeral cortege proceeded to the historic cemetery at Old Hazelton where so many of the pioneers are buried and the interment service was com-
