Even Record
Years to Upset Calm of Seattle
After 36 Years of Fishing

You have been fishing for 36 years you are very excited about bringing in 100,000 pounds of halibut in one load, even if that load is the biggest that has been brought to any along the coast this season. At least, that is the opinion given by Captain Peter Jacobson, skipper
of the Seattle halibut Paragon, which un-record catch here.

END OF WAR NOW
IN SIGHT, MONTY
TELLS HIS ARMY

WITH BRITISH FORCES
FRANCE, Aug. 21 (CP)—Gen.
Sir Bernard Montgomery told his troops tonight that "the end of the war is in sight. Let them know."

Montgomery said that the us finish off the business in victory in northwest France had been "definite, complete and decisive," and added that there will be many surprises in store for the fleeing German remnants.

Sergeants Employ Jam Tins, Pans to Extinguish Blaze

A hastily formed bucket brigade of Canadian Army sergeants using dish pans and jam tins to carry water, was responsible for putting out a fire that broke out in the home of B. Simpson, 5th ave. and McBride st., at noon Sunday.

When the roof was seen burning by Sgt. Hugh Allen from the sergeants' quarters across McBride st., he called Sgts. E. Swicks, James Perry, Otto Nordling, Charles Borton, and an artillery sergeant known merely as "Bill." They rounded up a miscellaneous assortment of containers which they passed from hand to hand and extinguished the blazing shingles before much damage was done.

The seven sergeants were congratulated by the owner of the house and by members of the City Fire Department, which responded to the call.

Smash Jap Strength
Over Moluccas Islands
West of New Guinea

PEARL HARBOR, Aug. 21—General Douglas MacArthur has announced that the Japanese strength over the Moluccas Islands, off the northwest coast of New Guinea, has been smashed.

Allied planes ranging over the islands are meeting practically no resistance.

The Moluccas form a spring board for a concentrated drive on the Philippines.

Russians Wipe Out 15,000 Germans
Annoeuvre to Outflank Warsaw

Refuses to Surrender—
Nazi Force Trapped
Escapes

ON, Aug. 21 (P)—The Nazi command announced that Russians on the bank of the Vistula had moved to outflank the German divisions totaling 15,000 men.

The communiqué said most encircled Nazis were killed.

"The next war," he said, "will last about 20 minutes. On the declaration of war someone will press a button on one side and send over a continent buster.

Simultaneously someone on the other side will press a button and release a continent buster.

"At the same time planes will set off from opposing camps to search for the island in the Pacific on which the men who led the world to war will be sheltering and drop island busters. And that will be the end of everything."

COLONEL BLIMP"

ON WAR TO COME

GLASGOW, Aug. 21 (P)—Roger Livesey, British stage and screen actor who portrayed Colonel Blimp in the movie of the same name, made this forecast about the next war in a speech at an army equipment exhibition.

"The next war," he said, "will last about 20 minutes. On the declaration of war someone will press a button on one side and send over a continent buster.

Simultaneously someone on the other side will press a button and release a continent buster.

"At the same time planes will set off from opposing camps to search for the island in the Pacific on which the men who led the world to war will be sheltering and drop island busters.

And that will be the end of everything."

Rowdyism, which broke out among a group of natives of juvenile age at Port Edward early Sunday morning, resulted in one of the group being sent to hospital suffering from bruises.

Police investigating the affair say his condition is not serious.

Beau Brummel lived the last

10 years of his life in Caen, and died there in an insane asylum.
