UGGED LIFE COASTAL MY BASES

e among the servicemen in y of Canada's western island nce bases is one of work and oken isolation overhung the dark shadow of bore- which Y.M.C.A. special ser- workers do their best to en, often under the most me physical conditions, ng these "Y" workers is Ollie Goldsmith, a young man from Victoria, who has been posted on the Queen Charlotte Islands for the last 10 months and is now in the city on a brief visit.

"Men who are posted to out-of-the-way bases for a few months find pleasure in simple ways that they would disregard in more civilized places," he says. "During the long stretches of bad weather they occupy their spare time with such indoor games as shuffle board, table tennis, darts, and volley ball. However, mail and movies are the big things."

But mail and movies do not come every day, or even every week. Very often Ollie travels on the boat carrying both to some isolated station.

"Ordinarily the ration boat calls about once a month, but sometimes in winter it is unable to land supplies oftener than once in two or three months. Once I was stuck at a base from the middle of December to the middle of February on account of bad weather. Rations had to be dropped out by plane."

Ollie told of one base that was particularly rugged. It is a small Island whose rocky surface climbs 300 feet out of the sea.

"Ninety mile an hour gales are not uncommon there and the huts are staked to the rock," he revealed. "I have seen men crawl along the face of the island because the wind was so strong they were afraid of being blown into the sea if they walked."

On that island the servicemen had to use dynamite to blast a 25-foot square of level surface to use as a volley ball court.

"They blew out a lot of window glass from the huts doing it," Ollie recalled.

Servicemen who are sent to those isolated stations are specialy trained for the jobs they have to perform and consequently they stay there for some time. After a man has spent six months he may apply for reposting—but only to a station of a similar kind. After eleven months he may apply for transfer to a civilized location. Leaves are granted, but many men prefer not to take their leaves until they are transferred.

Contributing toward the morale of these men is pretty important work for the Y.M.C.A. personnel," is Ollie's opinion of his job. To do it he must share the serviceman's life.

NO BOATS TODAY

No boats being in with catches, there was no sale of halibut on the local Fish Exchange today.

Woman Revives Junk Business

ADELAIDE, Australia, July 25 (AP)—Gentlemen who in peace time ambled around the suburbs collecting empty bottles, all seem to have gone to war.

A news columnist casually mentioned that he knew of stacks of bottles lying idle and shortly afterward received a call from the wife of a prisoner of war. She had taken out a junk dealer's license and was itching to get at those stacks.

... ask yourself this Question

One look in your mirror will give you the answer . . . Am I man or mouse . . . am I one of those who lets the other fellow face all the danger, take all the risks? Look yourself straight in the eye and ask yourself this one question . . . Have I the guts? The guts to wear the G.S. badge on my sleeve—to fight that my home, my people may be free.

You'll need months of thorough training to make you fighting-fit. Your place is beside every man who has the courage to see it through. Canada's Army needs you NOW, and needs you for overseas service.

On Parade...

1st (Reserve) Bn. Prince Rupert Regt. (M.G.)

A sports day will be one of the features of activities at the annual camp of the regiment at Gordon Head near Victoria next week and the week following. A smoking concert in the evening will follow the sports day. The officer commanding and ranks acknowledge with appreciation cash donations from the following which will permit of fitting prizes being obtained for competition: Variety Store, Watts & Nickerson, Gordon & Anderson, Mussallem's Economy Store, Sheardown's, John Bulger Ltd., Orme's Ltd., Rupert People's Store, Kaine Hardware Co., W. F. Stone and J. H. Macey.

Blankets will not have to be taken by personnel in their kit bags as previously announced but will be issued on the train and picked up before arrival in Vancouver. All personnel must take along knife, fork and spoon, it is announced. For the benefit of personnel, the announcement of packing arrangements for camp is repeated:

Small Pack — (on left side) mess tin, ground sheet, towel, knife, fork and spoon and personal cleaning articles, mirror. Water bottle slung on the right side.

Large Pack—1 pair issue socks. One issue waist belt. One pair drill trousers.
