By DOROTHY GARBUIT

Now that the New Year is with us and we are all making such grand resolutions, could some of us decide to rent a room or two? There is still the demand for rooms, among those looking for them being young couples anxious to be together, wondering how much longer they will have together with invasion looming nearer and nearer and the demand on service men overseas growing heavier. If you are happy and safe in your own home, why not share a little of your happiness. It might be their last, who knows?

Tuesday I had the pleasure of meeting Sub-Lieutenant Latimer of the Wrens. She is busy seeing to the quarters and arranging to meet the needs of the navy girls when they arrive. I did envy her the smart blue uniform she wore and the attractive tricorne with the soft blue badge. I've switched my allegiance and today I think it's the Navy I mean to join. Yesterday it was the RCAF-WD. But yesterday I hadn't had a close-up of the Wrens' uniform.

Two of the lonely island forts are crying to high heaven for coat hangers. They are sure Mrs. Garbutt can get them for them. What do you think? Can she? Well, thanks! I thought she could!

Thursday afternoon the Service Wives' Club will meet again after their holiday recess. They meet in the ladies' lounges at the "Y" and all Service wives are cordially invited.

What a task it is to take down the Christmas decorations. I have grown quite fond of our wo trees and the lights be-aved beautifully, only one lobe going out the whole time. Makes one think of Hans Christian Anderson's tale of the lit-tle fir tree which was so proud to be selected for the children's Christmas and quite gave itself airs only to find itself thrown out on the ash heap when it was all over. And as they used to say in Victorian days, there's a moral in that.

Silver Wedding Anniversary Is Duly Celebrated

A very fine party took place on New Year's Eve at the home of Mrs. R. S. Woods to celebrate her twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Woods was a bride of the last war, her husband being in the 102nd Battalion, Northern B. C. Regiment. Her son Robert, was a member of the 102nd in the present war and in his uniform of that regiment, took his fathers place at the Celebration. Mr. Woods at present being a patient at Tranquille Sanitarium, was unable to be present.

Long distance telephone messages were exchanged and numerous telegrams received from friends and relatives, some coming from the brides' family in England.

The bride of twenty-five years ago looked very charming in a white gown and a wreath of orange blossoms she was presented with a bouquet of beautiful carnations.

The rooms were tastefully decorated with pink white and silver trimmings by Mrs. Leo Koob and a sumptuous dinner was served by Hazel Proverbs.

Toasts were drunk to the health of the bride and groom of a quarter of a century's standing and numerous gifts of lovely silver were received to
