How Far Will Russia Go? . . .

President Kalinin of Russia believes that the German invaders will have been driven out of all Russian territory during 1944, exactly what he end of the first quarter reads 14 all made during the first half of means by "Russian" territory not being altogether clear at the moment. The fact is that the Red Army appears now to be very well on the way to achieve his objective.

When the Nazis are cleared out of Russia it is a question just how enthusiastic the Russians will be to carry on the battle into the home of the enemy. The danger is that a stalemate might develop at the frontier with both sides for the time being at least apparently satisfied. It is very important for us that the Russians should keep the Nazis busy in the east if our campaigns in the west-hardly started as yet -are to be successful. Russia must stay an active partner in the war just as she has insisted that we should be active in the west while she was fighting her battles on her own territory. We may believe that this is a matter which is receiving serious consideration and possibly an agreement has already been reached upon the course of action.

There are many eventualities that one might conjure up in sequel of complete Russian victory over the Germans which now appears to be very much in prospect.

A man never lives long enough to learn how to grow old.

A New Canadian Conference . . .

Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King has announced that a conference of the provincial and federal authorities will shortly be called to discuss their relations. The social legislation which Ottawa proposes, and particularly the health measures, make necessary the holding of such a conference. Such legislation cannot be implemented without co-operation between O Captain! my Captain! rise up Ottawa and the provincial governments.

There is no question that either some plan of cooperation will have to be worked out, or some change in our constitution made, if satisfactory social legislation is to become law in Canada. The present con- For you they call, the swaying stitutional machinery was set up in 1867. It met the needs of 75 years ago, but times have changed. If Mr. King is wise he will not press for the full implementation of the Sirois-Rowell report in war time. There are controversial issues involved which should not be raised when we are fighting a war. But it is to be hoped that some satisfactory solution can be found for carrying out necessary social security laws.

Today is Lincoln's birthday anniversary. Once again the world is fighting a battle for freedom and so, because of the great number of our American friends in Prince Rupert, I would like to give you again Walt Whitman's marvellous poem written just after the assassination of the great emancipator:

It is admitted that swimming is an excellent form of exercise. Yet the majority of youngsters and adults who enjoy getting into a bathing suit do so because of the desire to get the benefit of the sun's rays. I think medical authorities will agree with me on this point. One may observe the crowds that lie on the beaches in summer, many of them never going into the water.

There is one fact that all the people in Prince Rupert can agree upon, viz. we could do with more sunshine, and it is with this in mind that I offer the following suggestion:

Investigate the possibility of constructing a natural salt water 8:30-Truth and Consequences pool. I have in mind a suitable centrally located place for this purpose in the tidal flat at Hays Creek. I have spoken to several citizens of Prince Rupert regarding this scheme but they do not agree with me that it can be done. However, when I recollect how as a boy I saw the development of James Bay flats in Victoria into the beautiful area that the Empress Hotel now stands on, the development of False Creek flats in Vancouver into an industrial area and the beautifying of Stanley Park by creating a lake of Lost Lagoon, I see no ! obstacle, unless it be finances. to the development of Hays Creek flats into a beautiful natural salt water swimming pool. I have no engineering experience but, when one stands on Hays Creek bridge and observes the surroundings, he is immediately impressed with the possibility of constructing a dam across the creek at the bridge and conducting the creek in a concrete conduit to the salt water, thus eliminating the impure water that flows into the tide flat. Then, with a flood gate, the salt water can be stopped so that the area can be suitably cleared of debris and graded in order that at the dam end a depth of water suitable for young children could be maintained, then gradually getting deeper towards the railway fill. close, gravel and sand could be

This Salt Lake would give to all the people of Prince Rupert, young and old, the opportunity of enjoying all the sunshine possible and at the same time be a place of beauty in Prince Rupert.

I would like to suggest that the mayor take this matter up with the city engineer and park board in an effort to get a tentative estimate of the cost of this undertaking. If beyond civic means, a proposal could be made to the government for assistance under a post war development pro-
