GETTING OUT RATION BOOKS

Officials in This District Have Quite a Job

Rationing officials are busy planning distribution of ration book five which will go out to the public the week of October 14 to 21. The problem is arranging to get the books to British Columbia's isolated communities — from the boundless cattle country of the Cariboo and Nechako to the island-studded coast. These books will go out by steamer, power boat, freight train and horseback.

Great distances have to be covered in northern areas along the main line of the C.N.R. From Burns Lake the books go by car, ferry, boat and horseback, south to Francois Lake and Ootsa Lake on the edge of Tweedsmuir Park and north to the Babine Lake country.

McBride, which is the distributing point for the eastern end of the C.N.R. line in British Columbia serves a very scattered area. People come in by horse-drawn wagons and on horseback to centres from Dome Creek to Red Pass Junction.

The scattered points along the mouth of the Skeena River and north to Port Simpson and the Naas River are handled from Prince Rupert.

The new ration book No. 5 will be good for 50 weeks and this time a pamphlet will be given to each family, dealing with rationing matters.

GOV'T PLAN NOT DISCRIMINATORY

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, at its meeting last night, decided to take no action in connection with a resolution emanating from the Prince George Board of Trade which would have protested against a scheme of the provincial government on the ground that it was discriminatory against ex-service men from provinces other than British Columbia taking up land here.

G. R. S. Blackaby, on behalf of a committee which had been delegated to go into the matter, expressed the opinion that the government's plan was merely one of bonusing British Columbia returned men by giving them title to land for which others would have to pay. The plan could hardly be described as being discriminatory against returned men from other provinces. The board accepted the committee's suggestion that no action be taken in endorsing the Prince George protest.

PASSING PARADE
In the Services

The recently opened U.S.O. on Second ave. is like the addition of a bright light to the city of Prince Rupert and must warm the cockles of every heart of every one in uniform who partakes of its hospitality and comforts.

It may not have a swimming pool or a battery of tennis courts which the Beverly Hills Hotel U.S.O. lists among its attractions or the array of entertaining stars of the Hollywood canteen or the services of artists and studio tours of the Los Angeles U.S.O. but its warmth of hospitality, so typical of the north country, has no equal.

Its spacious dancing floor, modern lunch room, cozy lounge and fireplace, quaint hobby room and its cheerful music room compare most favorably with the best Vancouver, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Hollywood and Santa Monica has to offer. The united efforts of so many people making it possible gives the Prince Rupert U.S.O. that personal touch—making so many people an integral part of this wonderful home away from home for men and women of the Allied forces.

The citizens of Prince Rupert and the services share in another accomplishment.

Two well merited promotions took place in the R.C.A.S.C. yesterday when Harry Horne and George Turner blossomed forth as full fledged sergeants. Sergeant Harry Horne has been chief mechanic for the M/T section of the A.S.C. for some time and is rated tops in his profession.

Sgt. George Turner, a recent arrival, served his apprenticeship in the south with a course overseas thrown in. He is in charge of the A.S.C. Travel Bureau. In civilian life George is following in the footsteps of Socrates—but does his teaching in the Vancouver High Schools.

Unanimously acclaimed in the big cities where it has consistently commanded hold-over engagements, "Going My Way," which comes to the Capitol Theatre this Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, is hailed as by far the finest of any of Bing Crosby's pictures to date. The picture is declared to be remarkably life-like and rich in human understanding. Frank McHugh, Rise Stevens and Gene Lockhart also have important parts.

The story is the simple saga of a young priest dispatched to a small parish to take charge of activities and establish it on a sound financial basis. Bing, as Father "Chuck" O'Malley, finds it difficult at first to put any of his measures into practice. Rather, he poses as assistant and unobtrusively injects his methods without drawing the suspicion of the lovable resident Father. Self-effacing, Bing takes orders, cajoles his senior, bows to the older man's whims but still manages to organize such an unheard-of thing as a boys' choir, settle a lover's quarrel, placate the bank president who holds the parish mortgage and sell a song to raise money for a new building.

Compassionate scenes lend a warmth and tenderness to the production. The incidents might have happened in one's own community. And for enactment of these scenes, the Robert Mitchell boys' choir is on hand to join their voices with Bing's and Rise Stevens' rendering the immortal "Ave Marie," "Adeste Fidelis," "Too-ra-loo-ra-ral," the famous Chauncey Alcott melody, and "Swinging on a Star."
