Our Road Nearly Finished . . .

We have been receiving congratulations on the article we published earlier this week on the new Skeena River Highway, in which article we were able to announce that completion might be expected by July 1.

The highway work has been so shrouded by censorship that many people seemed to have almost forgotten it was going on except in a casual sort of way. Even yet we might find it hard to realize that about July 1 the isolation of Prince Rupert, as far as highway connection with the outside world is concerned. will be ended.

True we will not be able to use the road from a free civilian standpoint as long as the war is on but, once the peace comes, it will be open to us all to use for our business and our pleasure.

Not so long ago we had been saying desperately that it might be one hundred years before Prince Rupert ever got its road to the outside world. It is gratifying now to know that its completion is only about three months removed.

It will not be until we commence to use it freely that we will be able to realize the volume of its bene-

OR a long time now, John Bull, Uncle Sam and Johnnie Canuck have been doing business together. Today, more than ever, we are united in a common purpose.

Side by side, Canadians, Americans and Englishmen march along the road that leads to final victory. On the hot sands of North Africa, on the slopes of Sicily and Italy, our men have fought well together . . . given strength one to the other. Now, we look forward to the peace . . . and the ways in which we can preserve it.

Future world security rests to a large extent upon continued co-operation between the British Commonwealth and the United States. Of all nations, Canada is best situated to assure such co-operation. For we, of Canada ... a major member of the British Commonwealth, have long been a close friend and neighbour of the United States. We know and like them both so well, we are the common meeting-ground for mutual understanding. Thus will Canada help the world to Win the Peace!

GREAT and powerful partnership has been formed to bring a better life to all the peoples of the earth. . Today Canada, Britain and the United States are fighting for the same ideals of freedom. . This is only natural, for we have always shared the same concept of freedom. & For instance, all of us share one of the earliest and most courageous champions of freedom. . He was a Calvert, an enlightened English statesman and founder of colonies off Canada's shore and in Maryland. . In 1638 Calvert's son and successor carrying on the democratic Calvert tradition, fined a man of his own faith five hundred lbs. of tobacco for "villifying and profaning another's religion". . Thus a man's freedom to worship as he pleases was established in the New World by a Calvert.
