MICKLEBURGH ADMITS

siqne of the young people would be ensured. "Nothing that has been done along these lines in Russia cannot be done here but we must have leadership."

Mr. Mickleburgh promised that at no time would he ever allow the considerations of party to be placed above the needs of the people whom he represented.

The L.P.P. candidate declared his complete respect for William Brett but regretted that Harry Archibald should have made a slanderous and completely untruthful attack upon the L.P.P. "We are stronger than ever now, however, because of the rancor of a man who cannot stomach another Labor party."

Mickleburgh charged Archibald with complete falsification when he asserted the C.C.F. had been the only party to take up at Ottawa the Windsor strike. Indeed not only the lone L.P.P. members but also the Liberals and Conservatives had taken this up. "This strike is far more than a political issue," declared Mickleburgh.

Mickleburgh declared the policies and platforms of both coalition and C.C.F. were bankrupt as far as meeting the immediate needs of the people was concerned.

The L.P.P. candidate charged that 392 loggers on the Queen Charlotte Islands who would have been disfranchised through lack of enumeration—"and it was not done accidentally either," he added.

Aircraft Workers' Official Heard

Supporting speaker to Mickleburgh was Tom Parkin, secretary of the Aeronautical Workers' Lodge of Vancouver, who cited employment and security as the major problems of the day. He was of the opinion that full employment was possible in British Columbia provided there was proper leadership at Victoria.

Parkin advocated the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway under government ownership as essential to the development of the wealth of the interior.

He declared that the coalition government had not prepared to meet the pressing economic problems of the day. There was too much buck-passing of responsibility between the provincial and federal governments.

He also charged the C.C.F. with obstructing unity in Labor ranks. He certainly questioned the sincerity of the C.C.F. in relation to the Windsor strike.

An immediate issue should be made of the building of ships for Canadian service in Canadian yards. The C.P.R. had already placed orders for four ships in Old Country yards.

Parkin urged Prince Rupert to elect Mickleburgh and send both a "voice" and a "brain" to Victoria.

Stan Boshier was chairman of the meeting which, while not largely attended, yielded a collection which was announced as amounting to $24.25.

JACK LONDON LIFE FILMED

Thrilling Career Depicted in Picture at Capitol Theatre

Authentic and exciting film depicting the highlights of the life of the daring fiction author who roamed the world for adventure of which he got plenty. "Jack London" comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here today only. Michael O'Shea is cast in the title role and Susan Hayward is co-starred. Beginning with London's early life as an oyster pirate on San Francisco Bay, the story follows the author-to-be through his fighting, rough-and-tumble existence on a sealing vessel; through his battle against the elements as a gold hunter in the Yukon and finally to his appearance of the American scene as a foremost and beloved author. A little known side of London's career, that of war-correspondent, plays a vital part in the unfolding story. His coverage of the Russo-Japanese War emerges as a dramatic expose of the double-dealing Japs.

The warmly romantic story of Jack London's wooing and winning of Charmian Kittredge runs through the entire film.

Virginia Mayo, blonde newcomer, is featured in the second feminine lead. A cast of such players as Frank Craven, Ralph Morgan, Harry Davenport, Regis Toomey, Louise Beavers and Morgan Conway supply support.
