The contribution from Prince Rupert came through the medium of Oliver Smith.

During the ceremony of dispensing gifts to the eager recipients the nether garments of Santa were seen to be gradually slipping floorward. The situation was tense, until, relinquishing all holds, they landed. It was a hysterical moment. Gales of laughter swept the hall as Past President Lo Behnsen rush to the rescue and saved the situation and dignity of Santa.

New Year's Eve. being on Sunday, somewhat restricted operations but the gang kept things going until 12 midnight when the New Year, represented by Mary Manojlovich, was ushered in. Then all restraint was gone and the dance commenced after the usual osculatory intermission and continued until four in the morning when a halt was called. It was a big time and everyone enjoyed themselves. In the midst of the hilarity the boys who are overseas were not forgotten and fitting tribute was paid to them. Sergeant Roy Paulsen of the R.C.A.F. was present in uniform as a guest of the war fund.

ANDREW'S W.A. MEETING

The annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral was held on Monday afternoon. Very Rev. J. B. Gibson opened the meeting with prayer and gave a short but impressive address in which he thanked the ladies for the splendid work done during the past year and for the financial assistance given the Cathedral. He gave words of encouragement to continue in the spirit of co-operation and good will, regardless of difficulties. Miss N. L. Bird, the president, read her annual report reviewing the year's work and showing splendid results obtained in spite of the small membership. She emphasized the ideals of the Woman's Auxiliary.

an idea of what. we're fighting for ... Sig. T/O Howard McLean, Telegraphist on H.M.C.S. "Dundas" Those are the words of Howard McLean, Highlights young naval telegraphist, who used to be ledger-keeper at our branch at Port Alberni, B.C. Telegraphist McLean was telling us what he thought of the Bank of Montreal's recently announced rehabilitation plan for him and 1,115 other men of the Bank's staff who will soon be marching home in Victory.

What Howard McLean wrote to us has been said in different ways by hundreds of fellow bank men, and letters, which are being filed at our head office, are still coming in daily from our people on practically all the fighting fronts.

Post-war planning begins at home, and, as another of our people in the services said, "the old B of M looks out for us like a mother with a rather large family". (Counting service men, the Bank's family numbers more than 8,000.)

Service men coming back to the Bank will not simply return to their old jobs. While they have been away, their standing in the Bank has been reviewed each year and salary increases have been noted in their records, according to their past performance.

As the General Manager said in his annual address to shareholders,

"It is our intention to place these officers on the salary and, within a reasonable time, in the position, which they would normally have expected to attain had they been in the continuous service of the Bank. Our object is to see that they have not lost ground through their service to their country."

OF THE BANK'S 5-POINT REHABILITATION PLAN . . .

PENSION FUND

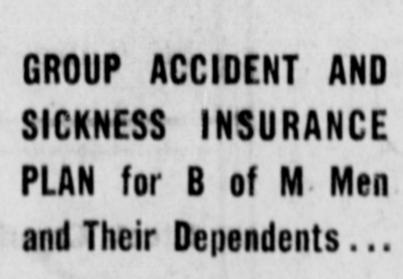

All B of M men belong to Bank's Pension Fund Society. This fund, which provides each man with a pension upon retirement at 64 years of age, is built up by contributions by the Bank and by each male member of the staff. During the war, each B of M man serving with the Forces has had both of these contributions paid by the Bank, and thus his standing is the same as if his service with the Bank had been continuous.

GROUP LIFE INSURANCE PLAN

ractically all B of M men avail themselves of this lowcost life insurance plan, and coverage has been continued by the Bank for its servicemen during their absence, with premiums charged to a loan account pending demobilization. Extra charges for war-risk have been defrayed by the Bank.

Under our insurance programme, which gives maximum protection at minimum cost, B of M servicemen can have protection for their dependents at 40 to 60 cents a month. They, themselves, can have protection within four weeks of their return to the Bank's service. The Bank pays a substantial portion of the premium.

SALARIES . . . Each B of M man in the Services has had his salary and position reviewed each year and the increases he could reasonably have expected to receive had he remained in the Bank have been entered in his record. Upon his return, these amounts will be added to the salary he was receiving at the time of his enlistment. Thus, his earnings will not be affected adversely by his absence in the service of his country.

DEMOBILIZATION -REPORTING FOR DUTY...

Every B of M man, after reporting for duty, may, if he desires, have two weeks' leave - on full pay from the Bank - during which he can re-establish his personal and family affairs. When he commences work, he will be given a refresher course before taking over the post to which he is most suited, and, wherever possible, he will be stationed in a city or town of his own

Dy following this five-point plan, we at the Bank of Montreal feel that all members of the staff on active service can be effectively placed in the Bank within a reasonable time. There will certainly be a place for everyone and, we believe, ample scope for advancement.
