Applewhaite At Terrace

WARNS INTERIOR PEOPLE AGAINST DANGER OF CCF CENTRAL COMPACT

TERRACE, June 4—E. T. Applewhaite, Liberal candidate for Skeena in the coming federal election, and J. W. Heffernan, K.C., Vancouver, spoke to a large and enthusiastic audience in the Oddfellows' Hall on Friday evening. It was the best attended political meeting held in Terrace since the beginning of the campaign. During the meeting, both speakers were frequently interrupted by hearty applause. Harry King, President of the Terrace Liberal Association, introduced the speakers, the first being Mr. Heffernan.

Mr. Heffernan outlined at length the history and accomplishments of the Liberal party in Canada. He described Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King as the greatest democrat today and the greatest statesman Canada has produced. "Mr. King," he said, "has devoted his whole life to the service of Canada and all he asks in return is an opportunity to finish the work which is now so near to a successful conclusion. He stands alone, is without peer or equal, and is universally recognized as an outstanding leader by the nations of the world. It is up to the Canadians to stand behind him to a man and give him the majority needed to finish his work."

Then Mr. Heffernan traced the history of Liberalism and of responsible government from the time of the Rebellion of 1837 led by the grandfather of Mr. King, to the present time. He stated that it was the Tories, not the Liberals, who put the French Canadians in the driver's seat. The Tory party dominated Quebec and secured a majority of seats even against Laurier until 1905. In 1940 Mr. King had a majority without Quebec.

Mr. Heffernan closed by stating that Mr. King is devoted and loyal to the prosperity and unity of all classes, creeds and nationalities for a united Canada. He appealed to the people of Terrace to support Mr. Applewhaite and the Liberal administration and show to the world that Canada still stands as a united nation. He was heartily applauded and the meeting was then turned over to Mr. Applewhaite who, as he rose to speak, was spontaneously applauded.

DEATH FROM SHOCK FOLLOWS WATER MISHAP

Abel Angus, age 36, a Naas River fisherman from Kincolith, died Friday as a result of shock after he had fallen from his trolling boat, the Silver City, and spent some time in the water before being rescued, a coroner's inquiry decided on Saturday. Angus was reported to have been in frail health.

The inquiry was conducted by Deputy Coroner Bruce Stevens, who travelled to Arrandale Cannery in Game Warden Edward Martin's boat Saturday. Provincial Police Constable E. W. Bell accompanied the deputy coroner.

Angus fell overboard while trolling near Arrandale Cannery, and clung to the fender of his boat until Jacob Stewart, his 16-year-old helper, came alongside in a rowboat. The youth was unable to pull the older man into the boat, so he lashed him to the side of the vessel and steered for a nearby boat where he was given help in lifting Angus aboard.

Angus died on the way to the cannery, 20 minutes sailing distance away.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Ellen Angus; an older brother, Ernest, and a sister, Edith, all of Kincolith. Funeral services were held at Kincolith on Sunday.

Those Who Shout "UNITY" Would Destroy It . . .

Throughout eight of the provinces of Canada the Progressive-Conservatives are in favor of conscription and are attacking the Liberal administration on its policy of partial compulsory service.

But in Quebec the Conservative party is supporting the anti-British group, the Nationalists, which group is violently opposed to conscription.

Thus Bracken's policy is to destroy rather than to build unity within the nation.

Vote LIBERAL for a Unified Canada

Keep Japs From Coast

Mickleburgh Opposed to Giving Japs Vote—Speaks at Essington

The stand of the Labor-Progressive Party on the Japanese question was presented by Bruce Mickleburgh, Labor-Progressive candidate for Skeena, in the course of a campaign address in the crowded schoolhouse at Port Essington Saturday night.

Mickleburgh said: "The eventual disposition of the Japanese in Canada will likely become a matter of international negotiations but, so far as my party is concerned, we feel it would be the height of folly to contemplate for a moment bringing these people back within 150 miles of the Pacific coast. Certainly it would not be in our interests or the interests of the Japanese concerned if we were to do anything so fantastic as to give these people the vote. We would simply be placing a large bloc of votes at the disposal of every reactionary pro-fascist politician in British Columbia."

"To look on the question of keeping the Japs away from the coast as a matter of racial discrimination is absurd. There is no comparison to be drawn between Japs and East Indians or Chinese. We cannot ignore the fact that the Japanese on this coast, whether there were innocent ones among them or not, were the seat of a powerful fifth column movement which threatened the safety of the state. Secondly, these people were brought here in the first instance by big interests as a club against the labor movement and have been used as strikebreakers both in the mining and fishing industry. These memories are still bitterly fresh in the minds of the workers who remember also that the Liberals and Conservatives, who now loudly beat their breasts on the question of shipping the Japs back to Japan (in order to try to cover up their lack of a program), are the spokesmen of the same parties that brought the Japs here in the first place. The CCF can try to back-pedal on this question all it likes but the undeniable facts are that the CCF also has tried to coin votes out of this question, voting with the safety of the nation and the living standards of British Columbia workers in order to seize on the Japs as an oppressed minority whose cause they could champion in the interests of so-called democracy, and, incidentally, bedeviling the whole question of obtaining equal rights for those groups which actually are oppressed minorities in this country, as in the attempt of the East Indians to obtain the vote this year."

Mr. Mickleburgh gave a full outline of the policies of the Labor-Progressive Party, stating that full employment was the key to post-war problem for Canada and only a government with strong labor representation could solve it.

H. Bakkila was chairman and a collection of $7.70 was received. Mr. Mickleburgh, in the course of the week-end, also spoke at Cassiar, Sunnyside, Inverness and other points.

Bunoz, Beloved Pioneer Bishop of North, Passes

Ecclesiastical Frontiersman, Here For Forty Years, Succumbs at 82 and Is Widely Mourned

Bishop Emil Marie Bunoz, O.M.I., Vicar Apostolic of the Roman Catholic Vicariate of Prince Rupert, for nearly half a century a beloved missionary among the people of the vast expanses of Northern British Columbia and the Yukon, passed away at 4:05 Sunday morning in the Prince Rupert General Hospital. He had been in failing health for some time as the physical infirmities of four score years crept on but it was only last Tuesday morning that it became necessary for him to relinquish the active direction of his ecclesiastical duties and be removed to hospital. He sank rapidly and was unconscious for several hours before the end as clergy and special nurses stood by in attendance.

Bishop Bunoz was the first and only Bishop of the Vicariate of Prince Rupert has had. After being ordained Priest in Rome in 1891 at the age of twenty-two he came to British Columbia in the fall of that year and applied himself to the study of the Chinook language to be fitted for missionary work among the Indians. For over ten years he worked among the white settlers and Indian tribes of the New Westminster Diocese of which he later became Vicar General. In 1902 he was sent to Dawson and in 1903 was removed to Prince Rupert to become Prefect of the newly created Prefecture of Prince Rupert. On October 18, 1917, he was consecrated Bishop of Yukon and Prince Rupert. When the Vicariate was divided in two in 1944, Bunoz became Vicar Apostolic of Prince Rupert and Coudert Vicar Apostolic of Yukon. His Excellency was born at

Tokyo Broadcast Suggests TransPacific Air Attacks

Stratosphere Balloons to Be Used By Death-Defying Airmen in Large Scale Assaults On This Country

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4 (CP)—Japanese propagandists predicted today that the United States will be attacked in the "near future by bomb-carrying stratosphere balloons manned by death-defying Japanese pilots." The broadcast said that a spokesman of the Japanese armed services had disclosed that pilotless balloon attacks, recently admitted by the United States Army, were launched against America on June 10 last, Japanese Army Day, and hundreds of them had been released from Japan every day since. The broadcast added: "The spokesman pointed out that thus far these attacks have been on an experimental scale and he predicted that, when actual results of the experiment have been obtained, large scale attacks with death-defying air-men manning the balloons will be launched."

A Japanese broadcast indicates that the entire enemy naval airforce may be turned into one vast suicide corps.

Another Japanese broadcast yesterday said that Japan did not seek to enslave or exterminate United States but would insist on unconditional surrender.

ONE DROP LESS WOULD SET MARK

New information on Prince Rupert's May-time drought, was revealed by the R.C.A.F. meteorological station at Seal Cove. One drop less would have set an all-time record. At Seal Cove 1.58 inches of rain fell during the month. Weather records at Victoria show that lowest rainfall listed in this district was 1.8 inches in 1935 and 1.5 inches in 1917.

Situation Is Critical

French Withdrawn From Cities to Barracks But Trouble Is Not Yet Over

LONDON, June 4 (CP)—Although French forces have been withdrawn into isolated barracks from cities of the Levant, Damascus dispatches indicate that affairs in the Levant are still in a critical state. British troops are being kept constantly on the alert protecting the French in the barracks.

The Daily Mail said today that Prime Minister Churchill will make a statement in the House of Commons this week "defining in clearest terms" the attitude of the British government on the situation in Syria.

Fire Breaks Out In Apartment Block

A fire of undetermined origin which broke out in a coal bin of the Aldine apartments, Third avenue and Sixth street, at 12:40 this morning resulted in some damage, mostly from water. Burning stubbornly, the blaze required considerable water to extinguish it but was confined to the area where it started. Residents of the building were prepared to move out their effects but found it unnecessary. The building is owned by former City Commissioner W. J. Alder.
