

Save these Prisoners of War for Peace

CANADIAN FIGHTERS, imprisoned by the enemy, are in dire need of food. They want more than honour and praise for all they have done and suffered—for us.

Theirs is a day-to-day battle for health and survival. Their need is for food, comforts and medicines to keep them alive until V-Day.

They look to the heart of the Canadian people—their Canadian Red Cross—to see them through with at least one parcel for each prisoner every week.

More than thirteen million Red Cross parcels have gone overseas from Canada to prisoners of war. With each new battle the number of prisoners, and the responsibility of your Red Cross, grows. No prisoner must go without.

Out of gratitude to those who have fought their fight—for us—let us realize that it is within our power, that it is our duty, to be generous in our gifts of Red Cross parcels to them. We can do this. We must keep faith.

Your Money is Needed as Never Before

Destitution and Want are so urgent and desperate in the liberated countries, that the Minister of National War Services asked the Red Cross, with the collaboration of the Canadian United Allied Relief Fund representing the War Charities of 11 of the United Nations, to include funds for this relief in the national appeal.
