NEW MINISTER ACTIVE WOMAN

Most Attractive Member of Britain's Labor Government Is Physician, Mother of Two

LONDON, Sept. 24 (P) - Dr. ary undersecretary to the ministry of food in the new Labor government, will not be able to work on all of her pet subjects while she is in the office.

Her interests range from wages for housewives to venereal disease and birth control. Cur- it can be done at home so easily rently she is pushing an anti- for times when it is impossible queue campaign.

"You have your wings clipped as she sat in her room in the ministry gazing out at the trees on Portman Square. "Some the things I've been working on I'll have to leave for a while. But queuing, which as a doctor I here.'

To help expectant mothers escape the shopping queues she suggested that special ration books could entitle them to preferred service, saying:

"I't dreadful to see these poor women with their heavy baskets, clean. standing for hours to get their rations."

Ardent feminist, brilliant gynaecologist, pioneer in birth conrol and a tilter at almost every special evil, Edith Summerskill manages to combine a happy family life with a most active career, and look extremely charming while she does it.

HAIR FASHIONS SWEEPING UP

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (P)-Hair fashions for fall are still on the upsweep with a multitude of styles that include braids, buns, twists and poufs.

The vogue hit a peak during wartime when war workers Edith Summerskill, parliament- found it a neater proposition and less dangerous than the long bob. Not that the modern miss has

"I've got medicine in my blood," she said. "My father was a doctor and I am a doctor and my daughter, who is 13 now, is going to be a doctor. The health of the country has really been wonderful during the war, but there are signs of increasing anaemia, especially among married women, who give the best part of their rations to the children. You can't stop them; they always have—it's maternal instinct, but it's not good."

Although the new government has taken over at a pretty difdifficult time, she says, with the whole of Europe to be fed, Dr Summerskill is not pessimistic about the coming winter.

"We can't stand by and let Europe starve," she said emphatically, "and the women of England wouldn't want it. We've got it easier. Think of all the fish which have been lying in Salvation Army's great work the ocean for five years. And
