Nobody's "Private Fight" . . .

A reading of much of the press releases and other material put out by both industry and organized labor leaves the impression that both management and unions view their disputes as "private fights." Each resents any outside interference, especially governmental, as unfair aid and comfort to the adversary. Both call for a return of direct and "unhampered" bargaining. But both seem alarmingly blind to the very large fact that the public's stake in a dispute may be as large as theirs.

Substitution of governmental adjudication for collective bargaining or other forms of direct employeremployee relationships would seem to be a dangerous departure from democratic fundamentals. Some machinery seems increasingly necessary, however, to see to it that the public's interest makes itself felt more effectively in labor-management controversies. —Christian Science Monitor.

Bonds of English Language . . .

Speaking a similar language need not be a bar to understanding. General Eisenhower and the Londoners have proved it again. When Piccadilly crowds greeted him on "his first night out since before the war" with shouts of "Good Old Ike," the Allied Commander - in - Chief knew he was being treated as one of Britain's own. And his response to a cheering theatre audience needed no translation.

He expressed the feeling many an American knows when returning to England from the Continent-"how much it means to be back among friends." Then he added that touch of humor which makes the whole world kin - "among people whose language I can almost speak." Ever since the General instructed the members of his British-American fighting team to "think Allied" he has proved that the barrier to understand is not language but a false sense of nationalism.

The modest Eisenhower is receiving belated recognition for great decisions of strategy and tactics which fashioned a magnificent victory. He deserves equal recognition as a master linguist. For he speaks with an accent that deserves imitation, the language our post-war world must cultivate—a sincere, tactful, self-respecting but undiscourageable friendliness.

Heffernan outlined the history of the Liberal party and spoke of the excellent record of Prime Minister King.

Applewhaite spoke of the need for experienced leaders in national and international affairs and compared the present politics of the government with those of opposing parties. He urged the electors not to undo the good work already so well; started.

Both speakers were very well received and their remarks were often applauded.

based on slander

based on fact

A great national movement is being attacked by the most unscrupulous campaign in Canada's history. Every possible lie, distortion and slander is being used by Big Business and its political parties against the thousands of Canadians who form the CCF.

FALSE

TRUE

The CCF will take away the people's savings and life insurance."

1 This is outright falsehood. The CCF says: The MONEY WHICH THE PEOPLE HAT EARNED, RIGHTFULLY BELONGS THEM whether it is in bonds, insurance savings accounts. The CCF will guarantee t people's savings with all the resources of nation.

2 "The CCF will take the farmer's farm away."

2 Deliberate falsehood. The CCF believes in f family farm. THE SASKATCHEWAN CO HAS PASSED THE ONLY FARM SECURIT ACT IN CANADA, providing against the loss home and land, and seizure of crop.

3 "The CCF will destroy the small businessman and individual enterprise."

3 Another untruth. THE CCF HAS NO I TENTION OF TAKING OVER SMALL BUSINESS. Today, small business and individu enterprise suffer from three handicaps: (a) uni competition from big combines; (b) difficulty getting credit; (c) reduction in business three depressions.

The CCF will remove these handicaps-will monopoly control-provide credit at costthrough jobs for all, will assure steady purchas power.

A "The CCF will mean regimentation and dictator4 On the contrary, Big Business itself regime Canadians through unemployment, high pri low wages and exploitation of the farmer. The CCF WILL END THIS REGIMENTATION will enrich our democracy by adding freed from want and freedom from fear to the precio right of the ballot box.

is National Socialist.

5 This is the most shameful lie of all. The ter "National Socialist" was invented by Hitler cash in on the popularity of genuine socialis Once in power he proceeded to exterminate democrats and socialists, while Big Business over the world dealt with him and helped him. The CCF HAS ALWAYS FOUGHT EVER FORM OF DICTATORSHIP AT HOME AN ABROAD. It is the most democratic politic movement ever known in Canada, and is the nation's best safeguard against the real frien of Fascism.

This campaign of falsehoods is slander against a people's party, whose members in Parliament, under the leadership of M. J. Coldwell, have demonstrated the responsibility and integrity of the entire movement. Today, the nation faces grave problems . . . it is a time for sober judgment . . . a time for vision and honesty of purpose . . REASON AND NOT FEAR MUST GOVERN OUR DECISIONS.
