Prince Rupert, B.C. TROPHY IS PRESENTED

Soo Suds Received Daily News Tug-of-War Challenge Cup

Presentation of the Daily News challenge Trophy, for tug-ofwar honors at the annual Kinsmen's Club Victoria Day celebration, took place last night at a pleasant little dinner gathering at the Soo Suds camp. The presentation was made by G. A. Hunter, managing editor of the Daily News, and was received on behalf of the tug-of-war team by Lieut. Col. A. B. Noble, officer commanding the Soo Suds.

Mr. Hunter expressed gratification at the opportunity make the presentation and congratulated the Soo Suds on ther athletic prowess as shown not only in winning the tug-of-war against stiff competition but in other lines of sport. He expressed the hope that the Soo Suds would be on hand to compete for the Railwayman trophy again on another Victoria Is Retiring

Col. Noble expressed his appreiation of the efforts of his men in winning the cup. He declared States Army.

Massett Steamship Service Under Fire

Dissatisfaction was again expressed at Monday night's meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce with the steamship service that was being given Massett on the Queen Charlotte Islands. Under the present schedule, it was said that the steamer did not remain long enough in Prince Rupert to permit of answering of mail and filling of orders for goods. Sometimes it took as long as a month to get an answer to a letter to Massett. This meant that business was being lost to this port.

Frank Skinner spoke of the difficulty in getting a second steamer for the Queen Charlotte Island run but said that his company was doing everything possible to remedy the situation. He pointed out that the company was not obligated to give any more than a two weeks' service.
