An Influential Advocate . . .

It is gratifying that such a healthy interest should be taken in the northern transprovincial highway, of which the Prince Rupert Highway is an important part, as indicated in a statement from Hon. Herbert Anscomb, provincial minister of public works, published in the Daily News today. We have a strong and forthright advocate in Mr. Anscomb who has promised to take up the matter on our behalf at Ottawa next week and who further expresses the view that this development should be "No. 1 on the list of post-war problems" in this territory. If anyone can get action on the matter he should.

Final Fight Against Inflation

The danger of runaway inflation, which might easily put the cost of living out of all proportion for many people, may be even greater during the coming few months than it was at any time during the war. Even now millions of dollars in liquid assets are threatening economic stability and, unless price controls of basic commodities—and that means rents, clothing, food and other essentials—are faithfully observed, the whole fight against inflation might be lost.

It will be important that prices should be established on items which are now going into peacetime production for the first time in three or four years, making certain that these prices are fair to the public and fair to the manufacturer. Firmest possible control will still have to be maintained on the black markets which have been a practically inconsequential problem in Canada thus far.

Controls must be controlled for a time, no doubt, but, as supplies gradually come into balance with demand, it will be possible to drop controls at a faster and faster rate.

CABARET DANCE HELD BY USO

More than 200 Canadian and American soldiers and their guests attended a cabaret dance at the USO Club last night to meet the candidates of the annual Civic Centre Carnival Queen competition. This affair, honoring the four candidates, was arranged by Frank Finnerty, USO Director, and Bob Herrick, program director.

The spacious ball room of the club had been decorated especially for the occasion. The club had taken on a definite night spot atmosphere with tables circling the floor and soft lighting. For dancing pleasure, Jaque Antone and his swing quintet provided the music.

Seated at a special table with their guests and reigning as princesses of the club were pretty Beatrice Didrickson, Miss Evelyn Bussey, Miss Lillian Knutson and Miss Ruth Giske. Representing the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, Gyro Club, and Women of the Moose, respectively, one of these girls will be crowned Queen of the Carnival during the evening of August 10.

Included among the guests of the queen aspirants were His Worship, Mayor and Mrs. H. M. Daggett; Alan Hurst, former British Columbia educator, now Pacific Area secretary of YMCA; Mr. and Mrs. Don Forward and Mr. and Mrs. J. K. McLeod.

One of the main events of the evening was the smart and lively floor show which was composed of the leading acts from "Camp Capers," a YMCA Service Show, led by Frank Scott, veteran showman of Vancouver for the past 25 years. Bob Herrick, as the notorious "Mr. Dingle," master of ceremonies, introduced the show to the cabaret audience.

A violin and accordion selection by Frank and Gladys Thelle, brother and sister, provided the opening number for the evening's entertainment. They were followed by an acrobatic number by Frank Scott and his son, Norman, a young man with a bright future in the theatre world. A Hawaiian dance, ably assisted by a soldier and coastguardsman, by Mary McInnis brought round after round of applause. The show closed with a toe-tap specialty by Frank Scott, his son, Norman, and daughter, Ruth.

This entertainment was provided through the efforts of Bruce McIntyre, and Don Forward of YMCA. "Camp Capers" has played to thousands of soldiers, sailors, and airmen, in the Vancouver area for the past four - and - a - half years. The show is composed completely of voluntary performers. Several had to quit their jobs in Vancouver in order to make the trip to Prince Rupert. "Camp Capers" is scheduled to play eight more performances in this area prior to returning south.

Following the floor show, the four attractive queen candidates, who had reigned as princesses of the club, were introduced, individually, to the cabaret audience. Immediately following her introduction, Frank Finnerty presented each girl with a beautiful corsage.

To climax the evening's entertainment the four queen candidates were asked to judge and select, in the joviality of the occasion, the queen for the "USO entry." Then, three soldiers and a USO worker, garbed in various bits of feminine apparel, one smoking a cigar, came on to the floor. They were "Miss Out-of-Bounds," "Miss Representation," "Miss USO," and "Miss Off-Limits." The four girls selected "Miss Out-of-Bounds," a 240-pound soldier as the winner. He was then presented with a meringue pie, accidentally of course, in the face. The audience screamed. The queen candidates, their guests, and the cast of "Camp Capers" were then entertained at lunch with Frank Finnerty and Miss Eva LaPierre acting as host and hostess.

Musical Feast—

Local Girl Acclaimed

A delightful hour-and-a-half's revel in interpretations of the masters by Marie Balagno Lundquist, Prince Rupert girl, who now lives in Seattle where she has been accepted as one of the Pacific Northwest's leading pianists, was enjoyed last night by an audience of lovers of the better things in music which nearly filled First Presbyterian Church. It was a treat which was deeply appreciated and which at the conclusion brought an ovation to the charming artist. Last time she was heard in public recital here, she was a shy, somewhat timid girl. Since then she has developed a pleasing poise to complement her talents which have long been recognized and have now matured to a stage attained by only the persevering few.

Superb interpretation displayed by Mrs. Lundquist was matched by technique of the most accurate quality and remarkable control. It was a flawless exposition in a repertoire of wide range and discriminating selection.

The program opened on a high plane with Bach's "Pavane in B Flat Major" followed by four colorful little Scarlatti sonatas. A group of Chopin numbers—"Impromptu in G Flat Major," "Etudes in F Minor and G Flat Major"—gave full scope for the artist's fine technique and the first half of the program culminated in a resounding "Nocturne in B Major" and the exacting "Ballade in F Major."

Schumann's "Sonata No. III in G Minor" was divided into four well defined movements—"Presto," "Andantino," "Scherzo," "Rondo"—in which the artist was given full scope for her versatility and technical skill of keyboard mastery. Six short and pleasing numbers—Vila Lobos' "The Cardboard Cat" and "Polichinelle" and Mompou's "Cris danse la Rue," "Jeu" and "Jeunes Filles au Jardin" and "Poulene's "Toccata" brought the musical feast to an all too early end. The encore demand was met with a delightfully modern little Gershwin "Prelude."

The recital was under the management and direction of the artist's father, Charles Balagno. Miss Mary Astori presided at the door and usherettes were the Misses Delphine and Helen Balagno.

A reception followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Balagno where friends gathered to offer congratulations and express personal appreciation.

Another Policyholder Reports...

"MY HUSBAND owns three policies in The Mutual Life of Canada, which he has taken out at various times for my protection and our retirement. Two are Ordinary Life and one is Family Income.
"If anything happens to him and I am left alone to bring up the children, I shall have an income from the insurance, and some cash to pay the bills and a reserve for emergencies. And if he lives to retirement age the cash values will give us an income.

"But I also have a policy on my own life, because I want him to be able to provide proper care for the children if anything happens to me. Our Mutual Life representative pointed out that Canadian government figures prove that in one case out of every three the wife dies before the husband.

"We chose The Mutual Life in which to insure because of the good reputation of the Company for fair dealing and low cost insurance."

NOTICE TO LANDLORDS AND TENANTS

Concerning Board Order No. 537

This order and the following information applies only to self-contained houses, apartments and duplex or tripled dwellings. It does NOT apply to rooms either with or without house-keeping privileges, nor to rooms in rooming or boarding houses. After July 24, 1945, no landlord may give a notice to vacate on the ground that he desires the dwelling as a residence for himself or for a member of his family.

NOTE: The only exception to this order is in the case of a discharged member of the Armed Forces, who is protected by Board No. 511 to the extent that if he desires to live in a dwelling which he owned or which he occupied under lease from a relative at the time of enlistment, a three months' notice may be given to the tenant.

All notices to vacate, legal proceedings, orders for or writs of possession outstanding as of July 25, 1945, are suspended and stayed, and a well-behaved tenant need not vacate unless a Court of Rentals Appeals by order reinstates such notice order for a writ of possession.

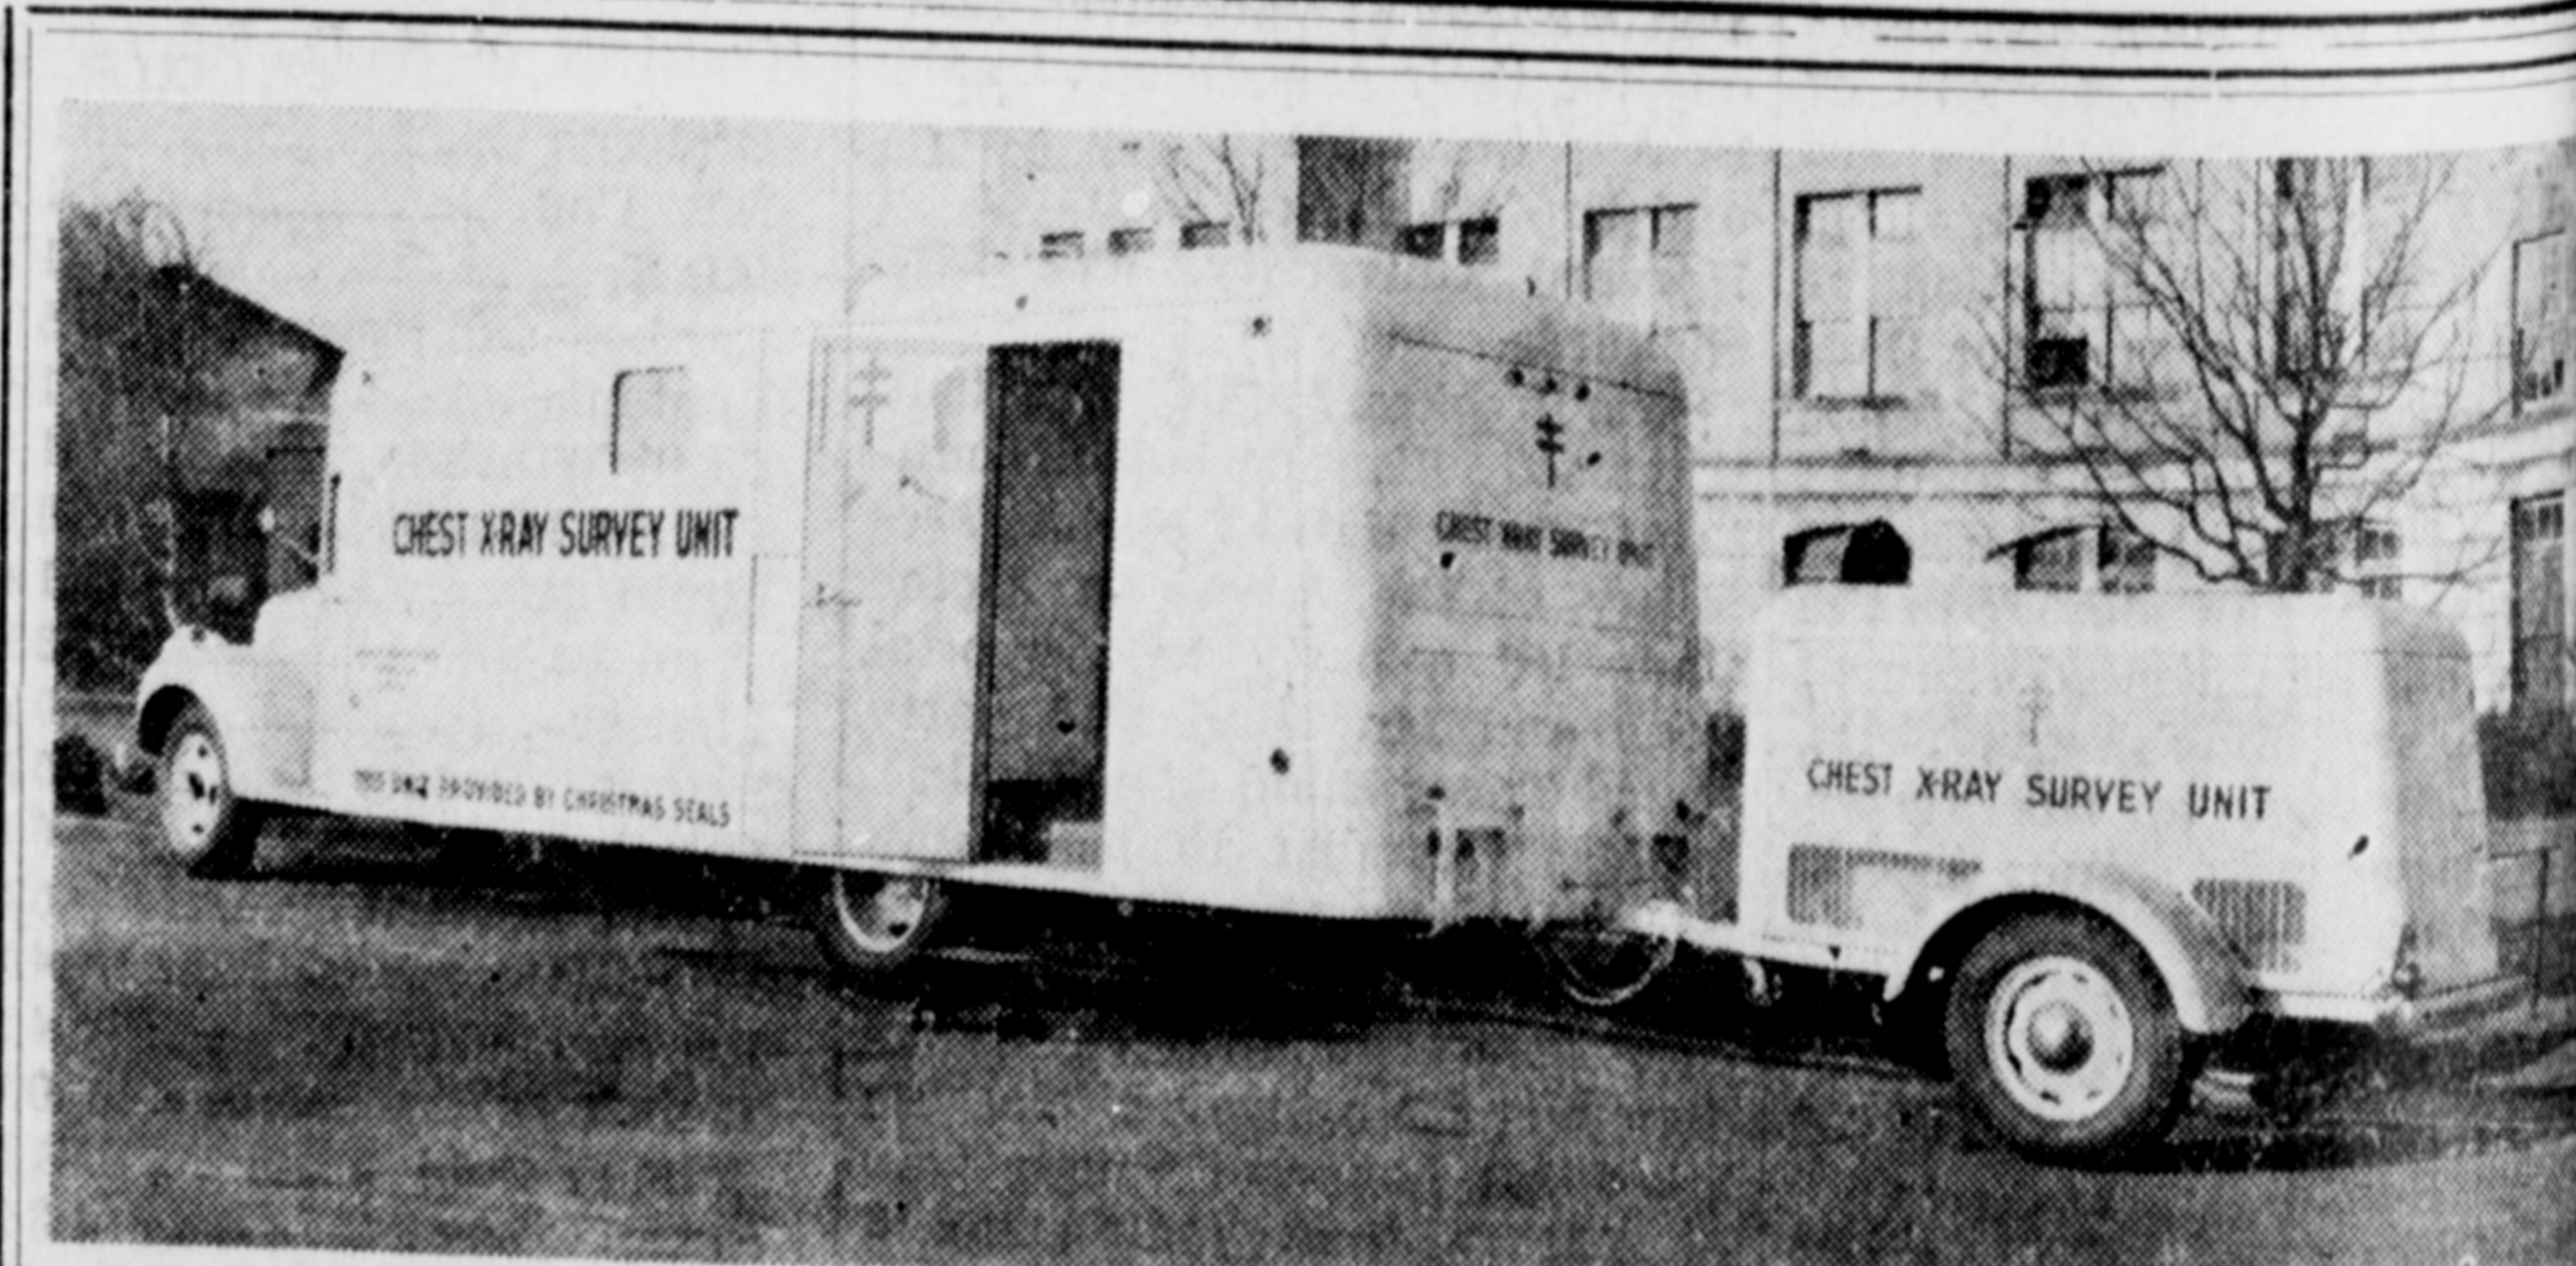

In cases of extreme hardship to the landlord resulting from the suspension of the notice to vacate or the staying of any legal proceedings taken thereunder, the landlord may apply to a Court of Rentals Appeals for an order to reinstate the notice or the proceedings. Such application shall be made in duplicate and filed at the nearest office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, NOT LATER THAN AUGUST 31, 1945, after which date no applications will be accepted.

In dealing with the application, the Court of Rentals Appeals will consider the relative needs and hardships of the landlord and the tenant. The application should therefore set forth clearly and fully the landlord's circumstances and the need for the dwelling as a residence for himself or for the named relative.

The protection afforded by this order does not extend to tenants who are in arrears of rent, or who are otherwise ill-behaved, nor to a tenant who has assigned his lease, or who is an employee of his landlord.
