BRITISH DELEGATION VIEWS NAZI ATROCITIES - The British parliamentary delegation look at one of the many gruesome sights at Buchenwald, Germany: a pile of bodies of men who had died in the preceding 24 hours and were awaiting burial. The American party "to view the Nazi atrocities" arrived a short time after this delegation left.

LAKE KATHLYN

First Fatality of Its Kind There Takes Life of Airman

SMITHERS, May 26 - The first drowning accident ever to occur in Lake Kathlyn took place last Saturday evening when Leading Aircraftsman Mervin James Ferrier of Brantford, Ontario, met his death there.

Ferrier and another member of the Royal Canadian Air Force had gone out in a small boat for a sail on the lake when a sudden squall upset the boat.

Other members of the R.C.A.F. who witnessed the accident put out in a rowboat and picked up the one man who was swimming
