Softball Final-

Port Edward Is Winner

Now Two Up Over Acropolis With One More Needed

Home runs by Horn in the seventh and ninth innings gave Port Edward Americans a 2-to-0 victory over Fortress in the second of the best-of-five-games series for the Prince Rupert senior softball championship last night at Gyro Park. It was Port Edward's second straight triumph and left them only one from winning the title for the second successive season.

Aside from Horn's slugging, the fixture proved to be an airtight pitchers' battle with Dave Cody, the winning moundsman, giving up only five hits and Rube Sher, the loser, yielding but four. Sher struck out nine batsmen to Cody's three.

Rebel Duke Remembered

LYME REGIS, Eng., Sept. 12 (P) -In June, 1685, the rebel Duke of Monmouth landed at this Dorset town to head a rising that led him to the executioner's tirely forgotten yet. At a Lyme Regis town council meeting it proposed that Western Beach be renamed Monmouth Beach to commemorate the landing. Councillor Tattersall protested that if Hitler had landed he also would have been defeated but no one would have suggested calling the place Hitler Beach. Monmouth was a "thoroughly bad man." But the councillor's opinion did not prevail and the council by a majority vote decided it should be Monmouth Beach.

league performer is released from the armed forces and changes the whole baseball picture. That scene will be repeated until all the players in service are discharged. Earlier in the season, the war veterans Al Benton of the Tigers and Peanuts Lowrey of the Cubs block-and he hasn't been en- came back to the diamond and promptly took the spotlight from the regulars with improved playing. Then followed the big bats of the Tigers' Hank Greenberg, the Senators' Buddy Lewis and the Yankees' Aaron Robinson and Charlie Keller. Those boys promptly brought the atomic force to the plate and exploded hits all over the parks. Now, all eyes are on four pitchers who centres. have returned to their clubs: Bob Feller of the Indians, Charlie Ruffing of the Yankees, Tommy Bridges of the Tigers and Hugh Mulcahy of the Phillies. Ruffing is the oldest of the quartet, having reached 40 last May 5. Big Red broke into the majors with the Red Sox in 1924. He never had a winning season until he was traded to the Yankees in 1930. Charlie left the pitching mound with an all-time record of 258 wins against 216 defeats. His best years were 1938 and 1939 when he won 21 contests while losing seven. > fall classics. Feller, now 27, stands a great chance to be one of baseball's immortals. Bob was with Cleveland six years before he enlisted in the the U.S. Navy four days after Pearl Harbor. Rapid Robert's fast ball wasn't slowed any by his sea chores. He proved that in his first comeback game when he whitied 12 Tigers to raise his all-time strike-out total to 1,245. The Van Meter, Iowa, thrower holds several modern major marks. His best year was in 1939 when he won 24 games while losing nine. He'll bear plenty of watching.

Bridges was inducted into the Army, Nov. 20, 1943. He had been with Detroit 14 years at that time. His big time won and lost record was 192-137. He won | the most games, 23, in 1936, but Tommy's best percentage came in 1939 with a 17-7 record. He won four World Series games out of six starts while losing | one. Mulcahy, who was the first ballpitcher to go into the service, March 8, 1941, is 32 years old. He only had five years in the majors, all at Philadelphia.
