Government Calls on Britons to Tighten Belts

First Day Is Satisfactory in Ninth Victory Loan

Inclement weather might have hampered the canvassers in making their calls but it did not deter the willingness and, in some cases, enthusiasm of Prince Rupert people for the purchasing of the Ninth Victory Loan.

VICTORY LOAN PROGRESS
QUOTA	$700,000
RESULTS	63,750

Ninth Victory Loan bonds for which yesterday was the opening day of sale. Subscriptions for the opening day amounted to $6,750 which is considered satisfactory in view of conditions, even if it did not come up to the $77,800 on the opening day of the Eighth Loan.

"We have no intention of being satisfied with merely reaching Prince Rupert's quota of $700,000," said G. E. Wootton, provincial organizer, this morning. "I expect we will make at least $800,000 and possibly $900,000."

Mr. Wootton based his confidence on the fact that this was to be the only Victory Loan within the coming year and that many would take advantage of the longer term time payments to at least double their purchases.

Some of the early purchases yesterday were:

City of Prince Rupert	$28,000
Peter DeJong	1,000
Mrs. Doris E. Dominato	500
Louis Ralph Vineberg	500
Mrs. Elizabeth Llewellyn	100
Miss Martha C. Braun	100
Estella A. Kurulok	100
Mrs. Winifred Black	200
Herbert T. Lock	200
Peter L. Gorrie	50
Salvation Army	100

Fred H. Fullerton, editorial director of the British Columbia Journal of Commerce, is a visitor in the city. He is gathering material for special articles which are to appear in the annual number of his publication featuring the port of Prince Rupert and Northern British Columbia. He made the trip north by motor and was impressed by the potentialities of tourist traffic into Prince Rupert now there is the highway. He leaves Wednesday on his return to the interior.

Brett Admits

NO "EXPLOITATION" UNDER CCF

Webster's interpretation of "EXPLOIT": "To MAKE A PROFIT OUT OF." Applied to boat owners and small business this means that, if you employ another on your boat, either by hire or on shares, you are exploiting him. If you hire him in your business, you are exploiting him. You fishermen of the Co-ops are exploiting those you hire, thus making a profit out of their labor. Under the CCF policy, according to Brett, you will be compelled to throw your earnings into the general pot and share equally with your shore-workers.

Savings and Controls Must Be Kept On; Some New Social Benefits

LONDON, Oct. 23 (CP) — Britain's new Labor government today presented a belt-tightening financial program of continued savings and price controls backed by subsidies and called for sharp curtailment of dollar imports pending outcome of financial talks under way in Washington. Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton, bringing down an interim budget, said: "Today and for some years to come it remains imperative duty of each of us, whatever the size of our income and whatever our occupation, to save all we can and lend it to the government."

Mr. Dalton said that Anglo-American monetary talks in Washington have not yet reached "even provisional conclusion." Stating that Britain is keeping close touch with the Dominions and with India in connection with Washington negotiations, Dalton said that Britain must do everything possible to restore the balance of her foreign trade.

The Chancellor announced that increased family allowances and old age pensions and other improved social insurance benefits are to be paid in Britain as from next year. There will also be increased expenditures on housing, education and colonial welfare.

Dalton said there was no hope of a balanced budget but said the gap between expenditure and revenue would be narrowed substantially.

More than 93 percent of the total number of employees participated in the Eighth Loan last spring. Reports of the first few hours in the Ninth campaign indicated that the beginning was brisk.

On the opening of the Ninth Victory Loan campaign Monday Mr. Vaughan telegraphed the following message to all officers and employees of the system:

"Peace with honor means that we must meet our obligations. Canada owes more to her men and women of the services, more to the lands shattered by Nazi and Japanese aggression than can ever be repaid."

"The Ninth Victory Loan will help us discharge in some measure our vast debt to humanity. Every one of us must do our share so that Canada may acquire herself in a manner worthy of a great nation, worthy of the sacrifices that have been made for her. The men and women of the Canadian National system have responded magnificently in the campaigns of the eight loans let us do our utmost in the Ninth."
