Miss Margaret Wallace Becomes Bride of Cpl. Victor Kapchinsky

First United Church was the setting of a beautiful wedding last Saturday night when Margaret Amelia Wallace, only daughter of Mrs. C. Wallace and the late Charles Wallace, became the bride of Cpl. Victor Kapchinsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kapchinsky of New Sarepta, Alberta. Rev. R. A. Wilson officiated.

Given in marriage by her uncle, P. Syrnik, the bride wore a Valenciennes lace trimmed gown with Mary Queen of Scots head-dress with fingertip veil, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations and white chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaid was Miss Olga Zabudney, who wore a floor length white sheer dress with shoulder-length veil held by a wreath of pink gardenias. She carried a bouquet of pink and white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Doris Syrnik was matron-of-honor, wearing a floor length embossed taffeta turquoise gown with mauve shoulder length veil. She carried a bouquet of gold and mauve chrysanthemums. Groomsman was Walter Syrnik.

Valhalla Hall was decorated with pink and white streamers for the reception which followed. Guests were greeted by the bride's mother who wore a satin back crepe dress of delphinium blue with navy blue accessories and a corsage of red carnations. The bride and bridegroom received congratulations from their many friends standing beneath an arch with a large wedding bell. A three-tier wedding cake was cut in traditional fashion. Toast to the bride was proposed by the groomsman.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

November 30, 1920
Word was received here by the creditors of the bankrupt Prince Rupert Dry Dock and Engineering Co. from the Dominion Government that unless the guarantors came forward immediately and made good their bond with the company the government would take advantage of a clause in the contract giving it the right to take over the ships and complete them. Should there be a deficiency it was understood that the government would force the bonding company to make it good.

The Man in the Moon suggested that a "site" seeing car would be a good thing for Prince Rupert. He pointed out that there was the post office site, the G.T.P. hotel site, the G.W.V.A. memorial site, the roundhouse site, the fishermen's dock site and a great many other sites that one could cite.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. When passing an acquaintance on the street or in a public place and one speaks to him, is it improper to call his name?

A. It would be preferable merely to say "How do you do." Some persons do not like for their names to be called publicly.

Q. Is it correct for one to close a social letter to a friend with "Respectfully yours?"

A. No. This phrase should be reserved for business correspondence.

Q. What would be the correct dress for a woman to wear to an informal dinner?

A. Semi-evening or afternoon dress.

VANDERHOOF

The entire staff of the Vanderhoof school, as well as teachers from surrounding schools, attended the annual conference of the North Central Council of the B. C. Teachers' Federation held at Prince George last week.

A widely known citizen of the Nechako Valley died in Vancouver recently. He was Samuel Asbury, who was formerly proprietor of a barber shop and billiard hall in Vanderhoof.

Jean Batiste Patrick, 39-year old Indian, was exonerated of responsibility for the death of 15-year old Harry Prince who was shot during a hunting accident in the Fort St. James district.

PRINCE GEORGE

Members of the Prince George Junior Chamber of Commerce are endeavouring to encourage returning veterans to join their ranks and are welcoming them to the monthly meetings of the organization.

Robert Hill was elected president of the Prince George Curling Club at the annual meeting recently. The club expects to have 16 rinks in play and hopes to start the schedule shortly.

Prince George city council has asked for immediate temporary use of the military hospital there and will call for specifications for a 50-bed hospital, hoping to have the provincial government share the greater part of the construction cost.

ARMY DOUBLE TALK Baffles

British Need Glossary to Understand Tommies' New Slang

LONDON, Nov. 30 (C)—A brand new threat from Germany is reported to be causing some alarm in British households. British soldiers, already noted for their slang, are importing some post-war double-talk that seems designed specifically to baffle civilians.

A sample conversation in this latter-day Army English might go something like this:

First Soldier (surveying his dinner): "Slings and Gippo again!"

Second Soldier: "A bit ropey. What's for duff?"

First Soldier: "Burma Road. What a shower!"

Glossary for the family: Slings and Gippo—sausages and gravy.

A bit ropey—poor cooking. Burma Road—rice pudding.

What a shower—expression of disgust.

Ma and Pa, if they don't want to drop a clanger, will also have to be up on their English with the following glossary:

Ling him one up—salute him. Look jitty—get a move on.

Charp it out—get to sleep. On a fizzer—open arrest.

Up for office—see commanding officer.

Beezing—polishing. Drop a clanger—make a mistake.

It is also wise for the family to be on slag for Tommy might ask for a grout; i.e., on guard, for he might try to borrow a cigarette.
