SERVING HUMANITY

The Order of St. John, which controls the St. John Ambulance Association and Brigade, was founded in the eleventh century with a motto which perfectly describes its activities "Pro Utilitate Hominum"-for the service of mankind.

In 1099 its members restored the old hospital of St. John in Jerusalem and provided Brothers to attend the sick; these trained men were the forerunners of the St. John Ambulance Brigade which today renders a First Aid and Nursing Service throughout Canada and the British Empire. Dedicated to serving humanity, the Order of St. John carries on its great work in war and in peace. Through the St. John Ambulance Association it teaches the science of First Aid and Home Nursing; through the Brigade its members put this instruction to practical use, rendering public service wherever disaster may strike or injuries be suffered.

Many centuries have passed since the Order began its work. The world has changed and is changing, but the motto of the Order of St. John stands-and will always stand-unchanged and timeless "Pro Utilitate Hominum".
