ROTARY SEES CANNERY FILM

Entertained by Moving Pictures—Collection for Old-Timers' Dinner

Prince Rupert Rotary Club members were "taken through" a salmon and herring cannery at Port Edward by the medium of a motion picture which was the entertainment feature of the club's weekly luncheon meeting Thursday. The film was shown by George Peters, local railwayman, whose hobby of photography has built up a rich library of local scenes and industries.

An appeal by President James H. Thompson for individual contribution to the elder citizens' Christmas dinner fund sponsored by the Women's Co-ordinating Council brought a response totalling $37 when the hat was passed around. In addition $25 is being contributed from club funds.

Mr. Thompson announced that next week's meeting would be devoted to club business following the luncheon.

Guests at yesterday's meeting were E. E. Poole, Canadian government appraiser for War Assets Corporation; G. Gottfred, superintendent of Canadian National Telegraphs, Edmonton; C. A. Radford, traffic manager, C.N. Telegraphs, Edmonton, and George Peters, of Prince Rupert.

Find Eczema Cure On Kitchen Shelf

NANAIMO — J. Galloway, prominent dog breeder, discovered by accident not long ago that ordinary liquid blueing is a cure for eczema. It all happened when his favorite dog, suffering from the malady and doomed to be shot, changed her fate when she bumped into her mistress in the family laundry and caused a bottle of blueing to crack and spill over her. A week later tufts of hair grew where the liquid had discolored the inflamed skin. It was then Mr. Galloway began applying the blueing daily until the animal's coat was restored. Other dogs here are taking the cure and making fine progress. The ones with eczema like the blueing because it stops itching and burning.
