DEVELOPMENT OF PORT

News last night, Brigadier Wyman declared that he had been greatly impressed as a result of observation, so far only cursory, of the hinterland through which he had passed while coming into Prince Rupert.

Explaining that it was the first time in many years that there had been such an industrial department set-up in the railway, Brigadier Wyman stated that his duty was primarily that of laison to act between outside interests seeking outlets for capital and natural resources and industries seeking development.

"You might be quite surprised," he said "if you knew the great number of inquiries that industrial interests and banks in New York make of our offices as to the possibility of expanding business into Canada.

"My job in British Columbia is to answer as best I can inquiries which are referred to me."

Brig. Wyman admitted that, while his jurisdiction was over all of British Columbia, he was particularly interested in this line of the railway. He saw tremendous potentialities. "It seems to me that greater density of well supported popula-

"WE NEED A PLACE TO LIVE!

"TV/E are living in a tourist cabin. That was all VV right in the summer months but now, with the approach of winter, I cannot expect my wife and little girl to live there.

"Mr. Canadian home-owner-you cannot imagine what it is like to come home from overseas and not be able to find a place to live. All we need is enough space so that we can be together during the next few months, after five years apart. In the springtime, I am sure the situation will be improved and we can get a proper home of our own."

THIS APPEAL MUST BE ANSWERED

Men who fought for Canada are seeking accommodation from one end of the Dominion to the other. The housing situation is acute due to several reasons:

- 1. Thousands of boys who went to war as single men are returning to civilian life, having married in Canada or abroad. Many of them have viny children.
- 2. Canada's wartime families at home have sought and secured more spacious living accommodation - a great strain on the present facilities.
- 3. Although thousands of homes have been built during the war, the restrictions on vital materials curbed the building necessary to meet the increasing demand. Government has placed housing on top priority lists, but it will take time to catch up with the demand.

This housing appeal for veterans is only a temporary expedient until Canada gets into high gear on bousing. You are only asked to rent available space for a limited period until sufficient bomes are ready for occupancy.

If you have space which you can make available, list it with the Citizens' Rehabilitation Committee, or the local branch of the Canadian Legion; advertise it in the newspapers or list it with a real estate agent.

Inquire at the nearest Rentals Office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board about five months or less rental agreements. These are exempt from normal Wartime Prices and Trade Board non-eviction regulations, and five months tenancy will help many veterans through the winter.
