OUESTION OF INDIA

FOR THE SAKE of world security the united India which Britain tried to preserve, and which Mr. Gandhi still hopes for, is greatly to be desired. The breaking up of large areas hitherto organized under law has little appeal for anyone trying to enlarge the borders of peace. In the case of India it seems right that Indians, and other nations to whom they may look for support, should do everything possible to keep India a unit. As such it can be a strong link in the chain of peaceable nations co-operating for defence against war.

Surely the demands of Hindus and of Moslems, as of lesser minorities, can be satisfied in a framework through federation. A federated India could present a common front to external threats or pressures while providing a maximum of local selfgovernment for Indians of all shades of religious and political opinion.

Some of the most outstanding of Indian leaders ave endorsed the federal principle not only for andia but for world organization. Hope lies this way.

MAKE A DATE AND KEEP IT

LVERYBODY in Prince Rupert, man woman and - child, is being expected to take part in the fight against tuberculosis by the simple means of being ex-rayed at the mobile unit which is coming here from June 2 to 17 for the purpose of making a community-embracing mass survey. To make it even easier for Mr. and Mrs. John Citizen and their family and with a view to achieving 100 percent coverage or as close to that as possible, canvassing committees will tour all parts of the city next week, calling on all persons to make appointments for the

Of course, it goes without saying that the large majority of Prince Rupert people will be only too anxious to avail themselves of this free serviceboth in their own interest and for that of the community. There may, of course, be some who are indifferent or disinterested. These are the ones who are especially appealed to.

It is fortunate that such a splendid health service is available and is being made so simple to ob-

KING EDWARD P.-T. MEETING

More than 100 persons attendthe King Edward Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday evening to fittingly climax and conclude the activities of the term. A short business meeting in this regard, the office of the presidency was of necessity left open until the September meeting. Other elections were as follows: Rudolph Olson, vice-president; Mrs. Cullander, secretary; Mrs. Vera Martin, treasurer Mrs. John MacLeod, social convener; Miss C. Mauldon, membership committee; J. Goscoe, press representative; C. H. Insulander, council representative.

The shortage of dentists to accommodate the population of the city was briefly discussed and motion was passed giving support to the Central Council in their appeal to the proper authorities for one or two dentists to ease this situation.

R. G. Moore, principal, focused the attention of those present on the importance of registering children who will commence school in the fall. In emphasizing this registration he explained its importance, in that teaching staff is appointed in accordance with the number of pupils. To avoid a condition of overcrowding such as existed last year, a house-to-house canvass is to be made in which Mr. Moore expressed the wish for full cooperation.

Before retiring, Mr. Moore introduced Mangaret Giske, King Edward candidate for May Queen. In a few well chosen phrases, this charming nominee expressed her pleasure of the occasion and asked for the support of the school-parents and named. This was discovered

TO TAKE OWN CAMPAIGN HOME

Some people may think the great Humphrey has strayed into town but it isn't so. That green, square-cut trailer parker at the corner of Fulton and 6th Avenue, belongs to Earl Mah. For many a week-end and evening Earl has labored to build a movable home. Now he has it complete with four bunks, a stove and a backyard. Earl expects to take his wheeled house on its maiden roll this week-end ove the road to Terrace.

The Mah family is looking forward to a pleasant summer delake-side cabins or securing hotel accommodations.

Spoonhux

"These Shreddies* sure taste good, Mummy!" That's what young folks think of these delicious spoon-size morsels. And mothers know that Shreddies help build strong, healthy bodies too. They're made from whole wheat, with the precious wheat germ and all the other good parts of Nature's best food. Be sure to have Shreddies for breakfast tomorrow. They're really spoonfuls of goodness.
