Development Of North Is Inevitable

But Speed is Essential, Archibald Tells Junior Economic development of northwestern Canada is inevitable and if Canadians do not populate the area and use its wealth, then some crowded Asiatic nation may overflow into it. H. G. Archibald M.P. warned in a brief talk before the Junior Chamber of Commerce last night. He spoke on the eve of his departure for Ottawa. Economic pressure, national and world-wide, will force the development of this area, he asserted, and new methods of production will speed changes. Mr. Archibald warned against static political thinking in the present shifting political scene and emphasized that these political changes are caused by shifting economic causes which must be recognized and considered both by the government and electors. "In northwest Canada we have open country with no population, while across the water lies Asia with teeming millions. If we don't develop our country, the Asiatics will," he declared. "They will overflow into this vast, rich country and, because of their numbers, we won't be able to stop them." Because of the necessity for speed, development must be done on a planned basis by the government, he said, "but free enterprise can come in if it desires." The future importance of the area was indicated by the present northward trend of the fisheries, forest and coal industries which are exhausting supplies in the south. The federal member suggested that the resources of northwest Canada and Alaska be developed by a joint, international economic commission representing Canada and the United States. Mr. Archibald leaves on tonight's train for Ottawa to take part in the forthcoming session of Parliament which opens January 30. Advertise in The Daily News.

The baseball world was startled 19 years ago today when New York Giants trade Roger Hornsby, one of the game's greatest batters, to Boston Braves for catcher Frank Hogan and outfielder Jimmy Welch. Giant officials said the move was "in the best interests of the club." Hornsby became the National League batting champion for the seventh time that year. Montreal's two teams - Maroons and Canadiens - set a National Hockey League scoring record nine years ago when Maroons defeated the Habitants 11-7. Previous high total for one game since the 1921-22 season was 1.

HOOP TALK

The Bo-Me-Hi Rainmakers have received permission of their principal, W. W. C. O'Neill, to make the trip to New Westminster to attend the provincial invitation tournament being held in the southern city March 7 and 8. If the Rainmakers go, they will be the first teams from Prince Rupert to have ever played in the south. And to have the coach of the winning Duke of Connaught team invite the local students, after his team had downed them in both games played here, should let the local hoop fans know that there is a team here of which they can indeed be proud. But there is a big "if" in the acceptance. If the necessary funds can be raised the students will go. But by themselves it is going to be very nearly impossible. It is against the policy of the local high school to ask
