GREENVILLE HOOPSTERS WALK ICE, SUFFER SHIPWRECK TO PLAY HERE

Obstacles like a 15-mile walk on river ice or a shipwreck are details too insignificant to dampen the enthusiasm of the Greenville basketball players who demonstrated their devotion to the game by arriving in the city last night after overcoming both experiences in their journey from the Naas River village.

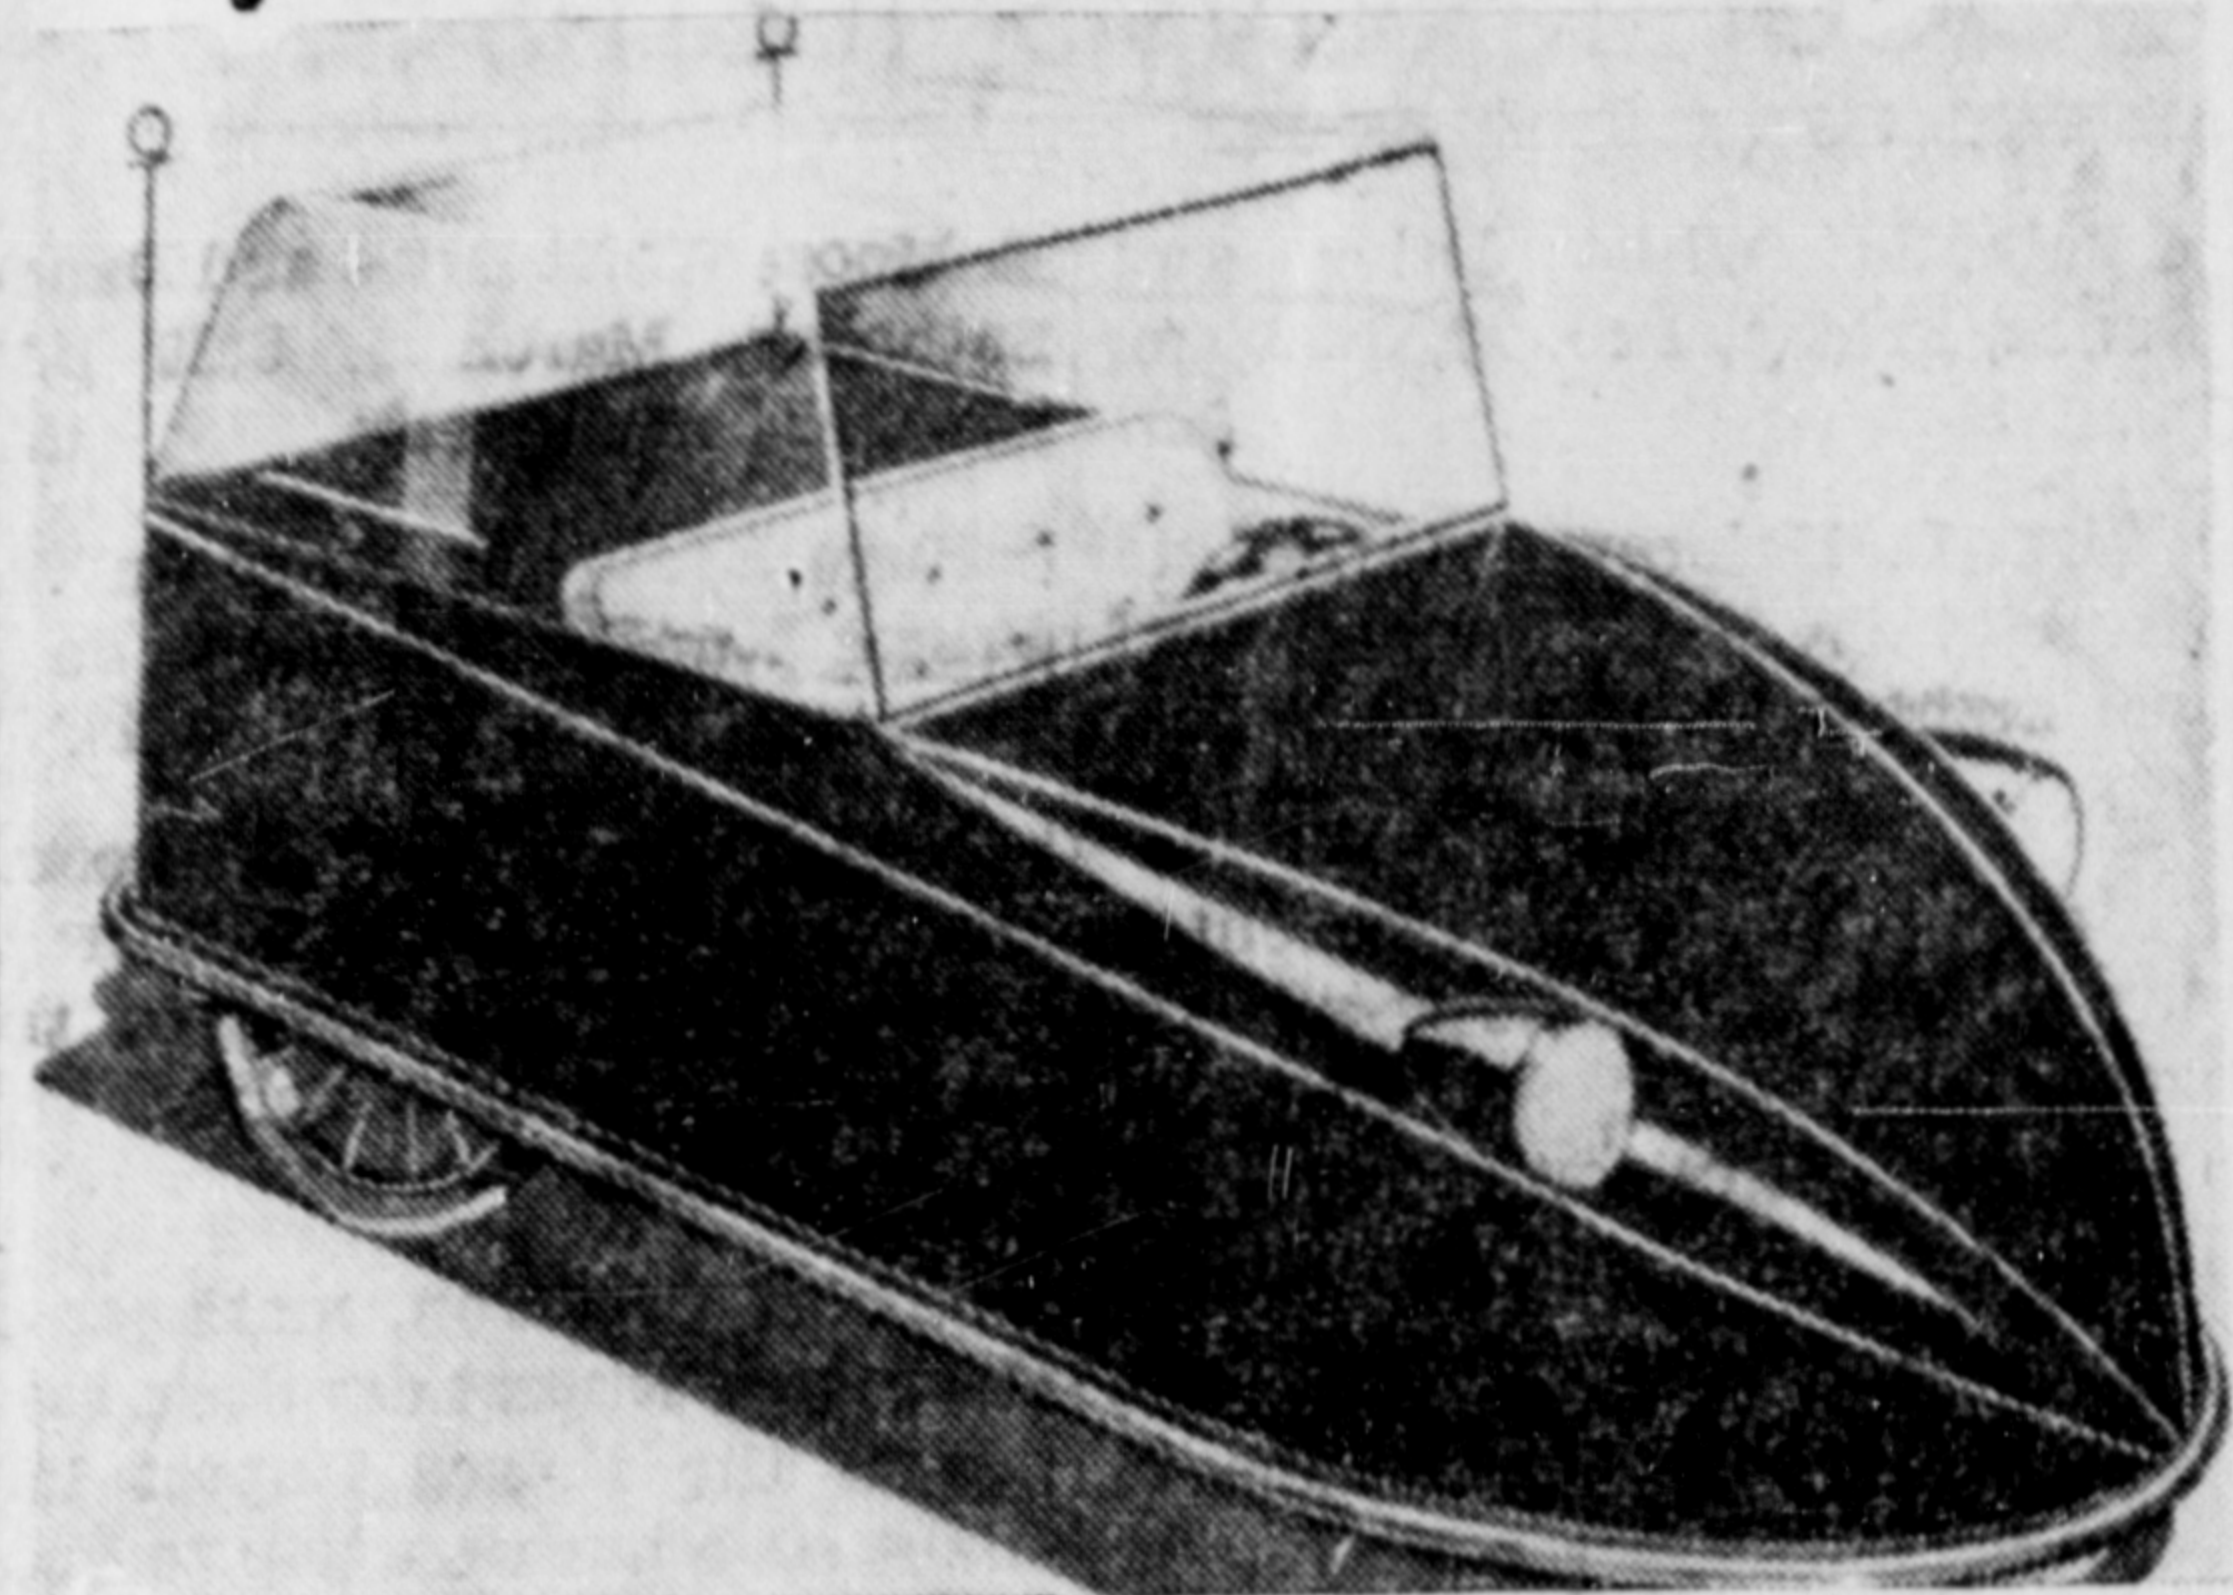

Today, their eyes are bright with the prospect of meeting two Prince Rupert teams in the Civic Centre Saturday night in a district hoop tourney they feel confident they can dominate.

The invading party, consisting of about 30 senior and junior players with coaches and managers, docked here in four boats, one somewhat damaged, after a 19-hour journey that started out with a four-hour walk on the frozen Naas River from Greenville to Kincolith, followed by a 13-hour boat trip.

The boat trip, accomplished in a four-boat flotilla, was highlighted by one of the vessels going on a reef and being assisted to port with a hull plank broken. The Eleanor II, skippered by John Moore, struck Ryan's Reef but received no serious damage. Lashed to the Lili Marlene, Capt. Morris Haldane, it proceeded to port here without taking a great deal of water.

The contestants, who hope to humble two local melon-tossing aggregations consist of a junior and senior team, both of which improved the mellow hours of this afternoon by practising on the Civic Centre gym floor. The seniors, who move under the name of "Whippets," will meet B.C. Packers of the local senior league, while the juniors "Five Roses" are matched against

NEW MIDGET CAR TO SELL FOR $250—Here is an engineer's drawing of the new "Publix" midget car which will soon be placed on the market. The tiny three-wheeled vehicle, which will sell for $250, weighs less than 100 pounds. It is six feet long and 3½ feet wide. According to the Newark, N.J., manufacturer, the car's one-cylinder air-cooled engine will do 70 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

Watts and Nickerson of the junior circuit.

The visitors docked here at 11 o'clock last night in the Lili Marlene, Capt. Morris Haldane, Lady Esther, Capt. Isaac Angus, Eva M 11, Capt. Angus, and Eleanor II, Capt. John Moore.

Senior players are Peter McKay, team captain, guard, Albert Robinson, centre, Tommy McKay, forward, Jeff Martin, guard, Ray Calder, forward, Chris Calder, forward, William McKay, forward, Charles Moore, guard, Arthur Moore, guard, and Herb Calder, guard.

Junior players are Louis McKay, team captain, guard, Charles Vain, centre, Adolph McNeil, forward, Silas Robinson, forward, Jerry Guna, forward, Martin Anderson, forward, Timothy Derrick, guard, Isaac Robinson, forward, Terry Stevens, forward and Roderick Maxwell, guard.

General manager for the invaders is Henry Aksidan, while Anthony Calder, is field manager, Simon Calder, senior coach

NO INCREASE IN GAME FEES

VICTORIA — Game licence fees will not be increased during the present session of the legislature, Attorney-General Gordon Wismer announced in the Legislature. However, amendments to the Game Act will be passed. "It is our intention to take authority at this session to provide for a five-year program for game conservation with an advisory council composed of members of various game bodies throughout the province," he declared.

Wheat Board Report Wanted By Brackley

OTTAWA — Technical suggestions came under scrutiny in the House of Commons today in slow-moving debate on a position leader John Brackley and several supporters for production of a Wheat Board memorandum to government.

DUBLIN, Eire — A Limerick cotton company plans to start a cotton factory in the county, employing 400 persons.

TIME TO START PLANNING

No matter what the weather is like outside, this is the time to start planning the garden. A few hours spent looking over seed catalogues, plotting out vegetable and flower plantings will ensure absolute success later on. In far too many cases seeds are bought and rushed in with little thought of what color the flowers will be later on, how high the plants, or what season the vegetables.

In special government bulletins on the subject and in most Canadian seed catalogues will be listed a lot of vital information for the gardener in addition to descriptions of the flowers and vegetables. Experienced gardeners would never think of planting vegetables, flowers or shrubs without some of this vital information. Without it even the best of them would be creating a jungle rather than something tidy beautiful and most satisfactory. And a jungle, it should be pointed out, is something far different from an informal layout. Few experts would advocate a formal garden with all the flowers in prim rows or squares, but neither do they suggest broadcasting seed in every direction, planting little flowers behind tall ones or putting clashing colors side by side. In the vegetables, too, they urge more room for big or tall things like corn, cucumbers and potatoes than for narrow growing lettuce, beets and carrots.

VITAL FACTS — Before one plants any seed or shrub he or she should have some idea how big that plant will be at maturity, when it will flower or be fit to eat, whether or not it is hardy, semi-hardy or tender, and in the case of flowers whether it will like shade or full sun. It is not necessary to memorize all such facts because they are all listed in the catalogues. Generally speaking, all plants require at least half as much space between them as they are high at maturity. With big trees this means 20 to 40 feet, with carrots it means only about two inches. Again the proper depth to plant seeds is about three times the diameter. With tiny seeds like poppies, alyssum or geraniums this means merely pressing the seeds into the soil; with big things like gladiolus bulbs, potatoes and dahlias it means from four to eight inches.

FIRST JOBS — Most people plant too early and stop planting too soon. On the other hand there are some hardy things that cannot be planted too soon.

Grass seed is in this category and also sweet peas, the hardier sorts of garden peas, spinach and most nursery stock. They shouldn't be planted in mud or frozen soil, but if the soil crumbles without packing it is fit for grass seed or the others. Even if snow returns it will not do any harm. Some experts claim that snow later on will improve the chances for a good catch. As soon as the soil is fit to work one can risk a few rows of the hardiest vegetables too. If they come through there will be a nice gain in earliness; if they don't the loss is trivial in any case.

When Your Motor Oil Takes a Turkish Bath

Did you realize that your car engine is actually subjected to a Turkish bath every time you run it? For every gallon of gasoline it burns, your engine manufactures about a gallon of water (in the form of water vapor or steam).

Under similar laboratory treatment in the above cabinet, even the best un-compounded oil couldn't keep the metal strip on the right from rusting. See how the RPM Compounded Motor Oil has kept the other strip shiny even after 5 days in the same humidity cabinet? This special compound "weds" RPM Motor Oil and metal surfaces, keeping a protective oil film on engines under intense heat or even when they're idle for days.

RPM Motor Oil makes your miles trouble-free. Make it a habit to stop at your nearest STANDARD DEALER.
