DOMINION DAY

THE DOMINION OF CANADA was officially formed on July 1, 1867. Suggestions have been made in Parliament that the designation of July 1 should be changed to "Canada Day."
 It would seem that the more important question is what we do with it or how we celebrate. To a great many, July 1 marks the beginning of the summer holiday season, the exit from city streets to summer cottages. To others, it is a great day for play—baseball, racing, tennis, picnics, and other forms of sporting events.
 To the Fathers of Confederation it was the mark of a great dream come true. It was the birth of a nation. It consummated a political union of the northern half of a continent.
 This year, no matter how we celebrate, should we not pause at some significant moment to say to ourselves "We have a great inheritance, we will strive to keep it strong in honor of our forefathers, and for our children and our children's children?"

Mrs. Norman Hooper is sailing Tuesday on the Coquitlam on a holiday trip to Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Renie of Port Clements, after a two weeks' visit to the city left at the week-end on their return to their home on the Queen Charlotte Islands.
 J. A. Findlay, Indian Agent at Massett, after a brief visit to the city, left at the end of the week for Massett, accompanied by Mrs. Findlay who will take up residence there.

SHIPS AND WATERFRONT

It was again a "Union" week-end at the local waterfront with no less than five of the company's ships in port since Friday. First was the Catala, Capt. Ernest Sheppard, arriving at 8 o'clock Friday morning from the south and sailing at 5 p.m. for Vancouver and waypoints. The Camosun, Capt. Harry McLean, arrived from Vancouver and Ocean Falls at 4 p.m. Friday, sailing at 9:15 p.m. for the south. At 10:30 p.m. Friday the Cassiar, Capt. Lorne Godfrey, arrived from Vancouver via the south end of the Queen Charlotte Islands, sailing at midnight for Massett Inlet points and returning here at 9 o'clock Sunday morning to sail at midnight last night on her return to Vancouver via the south Islands. The Coquitlam, Capt. John Boden, arrived at 4:45 yesterday afternoon from Vancouver and waypoints, sailing at 8 p.m. for Alice Arm and Stewart whence she will return here tomorrow morning to sail at 1:30 p.m. for Vancouver. At midnight last night the Frank Waterhouse freighter Chilliwack, Capt. Stevens, arrived in port after loading a cargo at Premier and sailed early this morning for Vancouver.
 Carrying 121 passengers and 200 tons of freight, the Canadian Pacific coaster liner Princess Norah, Capt. Graham O. Hughes, docked here at 11 o'clock this morning bound for the Alaska ports, sailing at 1 p.m. she will return southbound next Saturday.
 Unloading one carload of herrings, the Ketchikan fish packer Einostoss 15 was in port this morning. The barrels of mild-cured salmon will be transhipped over C.N.R. lines to the eastern United States.

Twenty-four native from Skidegate, Queen Charlotte Islands, arrived at the end of the week on the Cassiar on their way to Port Edward where they will be employed for the summer in Nelson Bros. Ltd. salmon canning plant.

Miss Olive Johnson of the Health Unit staff is sailing on the Coquitlam Tuesday afternoon on a trip to Vancouver.
 Mrs. C. Minaker and daughter returned to their home at Massett, Queen Charlotte Islands, at the week-end after a visit in the city.
