MENTAL ILLS GROW

VANCOUVER, @—Mental illness is becoming a bigger problem in British Columbia every year and there is a great shortage of accommodation in which to care for these people properly, Dr. Ernest A. Campbell, Vancouver psychiatrist, told a meeting of the Gyro Club here.

VANITY OF MEN

In ancient Rome men used to trace veins in their arms with blue paint, believing it made them more attractive.

SPEED, PARKING REGULATIONS TO BE ENFORCED

Improper parking and speeding are going to become punishable exceptions, rather than the rule, city council decided last night after discussing a petition signed by 50 residents of Seventh Avenue East which contained a complaint that speeding on that thoroughfare made life hazardous for school children, pedestrians and other motorists.

The petition also complained against the "continual grading of unpaved Seventh Avenue, which, it is stated, kept the surface stirred up so that clouds of dust arose during dry weather.

City Engineer E. A. Phillips, also a resident of Seventh Avenue East, told council that, if speeding on that thoroughfare were stopped, the dust nuisance would be reduced considerably.

"I often see cars driving on Seventh Avenue at 30 and 35 miles an hour, weaving through parked cars. It is certainly dangerous," he declared. "Twenty miles an hour is fast enough. There would not be nearly as much dust if the speeds were held down, either."

Alderman Youngs urged the enforcement of parking regulations, especially for trucks, which, he said, took up a large part of the city's narrow streets.

Alderman Ham urged that the traffic bylaw be revised to prohibit motorists parking on the "surfaced" portions of the streets, thereby running into an objection by Alderman Youngs that some of the streets "have no surfacing."

"Well, we could make it read 'off the travelled portion of the street' then," Alderman Ham replied.

The aldermen agreed that both the parking and speeding regulations should be enforced, and referred the matter to the police committee for action.

However, none accepted an invitation from the petitioners to stand on Seventh Avenue on a sunny day and learn first hand how bad the dust nuisance is.

DEATH COST UP

MOOSE JAW, Sask., @—There is no escape from the higher costs of living—not even by dying. Recently city council passed a by-law to increase the cost of grave digging in Moose Jaw cemeteries. Now it costs $12 to be buried instead of $8.
