

HEAVY HERRING RUN AT PORCHER

A heavy concentration of herring which has appeared off Goshen Island, south of Porcher Island, has yielded more than 1,500 tons of the silver fish to fishing company seiners which are landing their catches at Klemtu, Butedale, Port Edward and Prince Rupert.

Since it was discovered Saturday, the school has been followed by almost a dozen seiners which seined more than 1,000 tons Sunday night and 570 tons on Monday night.

Much of the catch is going to the Nelson Bros. cannery and the B.C. Packers reduction plant at Port Edward while some is going to the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Co. plant here for bait freezing.

The J. H. Todd Co. plant at Klemtu is canning and bait freezing while the Canadian Fishing Co. plant at Butedale is operating as a reduction plant and is freezing bait as well. Some of the herring being landed here is going to the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative for bait freezing.

FORGIVE TARDINESS

LONDON (P)—Beckenham Library, in need of books, announced a "forgiveness period" during which it would take back, with no questions asked, books not returned when air raids were taking place.

JERSEY BOSSIES THRIVED IN WAR

LONDON (P)—The pure Jersey cattle herds of the Channel Islands, after lean rations during the years of German occupation, now are back to pre-war standards, British livestock authorities reported after a survey.

Cattle stocks were reduced to a minimum by German orders but farmers were allowed to keep dairy cows for production of butter and similar foods. Regulations limited the number of calves to be reared but farmers took care that the quota of heifer calves saved were from the best cows.

Farmers were required to make a uniform provision of meat as well as of milk and milk products but this simply resulted in inferior animals being weeded out.

Prof. R. W. Wheldon, a British livestock authority, said the general level of cattle on Jersey island at the close of occupation "was better than at the beginning. Shortage of food had left its mark, in some cases, but on the whole the cattle came through remarkably well."

In recent shows the classes for aged cows have been of high standard and on Jersey island the pre-war system of milk recording for each animal is being resumed. Cattle exports have been heavy in the post-war period.

DROP QUEST FOR GOV'T MILK SUBSIDY

Agitation for re-instatement of the federal government subsidy on milk has been dropped by King Edward branch, Prince Rupert Parent-Teachers' Association, following a report delivered to the association at its monthly meeting last night by J. C. Gilker, joint P.T.A. president.

Investigation has revealed, Mr. Gilker told the meeting, that removal of the subsidy was good economic policy, and the members agreed, on the basis of his report, that efforts to have it re-installed should be dropped.

"On motion of C. S. Hansen, the meeting offered a hearty vote of thanks to Principal R. G. Moore for his initiative in arranging regular gymnasium classes for school children at the Civic Centre as part of their weekly school routine.

The question of sending a delegate from the council P.T.A. to the Easter convention at Vancouver was discussed and approved.

A "white elephant" sale and a sale of hot cross buns was planned to take place in March with Miss Moxley in charge of the project. Its purpose is to raise funds toward radio-gramophone equipment for the school.

The members then enjoyed a film, "Better Tomorrow," showing a New York City school, a notable advance over local buildings. Another reel of "Medical Training in the R.C.A.F." acquainted the parents with movie methods of teaching health to our children.

After refreshments the meeting adjourned.

SNIPS GIRLS' TRESSES—William Pyle, 16, of West Los Angeles, Calif., who admitted to Santa Monica police that he had snipped the tresses of six or eight young women with barber shears. In each case the women were waiting on a bus bench when he approached and cut their hair without warning. "Girls never gave me much of a break. I guess I did it because I had it in for girls," he said.

ADVENTURE FILM HERE

"O. S. S." Coming to Capitol Theatre this Thursday, Friday and Saturday

Pulsating and suspenseful adventure is assured for local movie fans at the Capitol Theatre this Thursday, Friday and Saturday with the presentation of the dramatic action picture "O. S. S." starring Alan Ladd and Geraldine Fitzgerald, which tells the story of the United States underground intelligence organization known as the Office of Strategic Services.

Ladd is seen as a member of a secret operating team known as "Applejack." Miss Fitzgerald is another. They, together with two other men, are dropped by parachute into France with instructions to blow up a vital bridge in preparation for "D" Day landing. Ladd is resentful of Miss Fitzgerald's presence on the team, thinking that her sex will act as a deterrent. However, it is her handling of a sinister colonel that saves not only "Applejack" from disaster but also a number of French underground workers.

Incidents in "O. S. S." are said to include many factual occurrences taken from actual war archives.

PROSPECTING SPEEDED UP

TORONTO, (P)—Describing the American fluxgate magnetometer and a similar instrument developed in Canada to locate ore bodies quickly from the air, Hans Lundberg of Toronto said at the convention of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy yesterday that an area 12,000 by 10,000 feet had been surveyed in one hour in a helicopter flown at low altitude.
