

SHIPS AND WATERFRONT

Sport fishermen in rowboats have been catching spring salmon this year right off the wharf at Stewart which is something unusual. Considerable numbers of these fine fish have been taken, according to word from the Portland Canal camp.

Motorship Dagney was in port from Ketchikan yesterday with two carloads of fresh fish and two of frozen for transshipment East over Canadian National Railways.

No boats being in with catches, there was no sale of halibut on the local Fish Exchange this morning.

H.M.C.S. Uganda, Capt. Kenneth Adams, R.C.N., has been in Vancouver since Monday, her last visit since last November. This is a training cruise for new

DISTINGUISHED IN HIS STUDIES

Son of Ex-Mayor and Mrs. H. M. Daggett Wins Fellowship

A letter just received from their son, Harry, jr., attending Brown's University at Providence, Rhode Island, tells Ex-Mayor and Mrs. H. M. Daggett of his latest award, a $1,200 (plus tuition) fellowship in the Calco Division of the American Cyanamid Company.

This is the third fellowship that Harry Daggett, jr., has received while attending Brown's University. Previous to this, he received two scholarships while attending Queen's University at Kingston, Ontario. He will use this fellowship when he continues his studies at Brown's University next term. He is completing his Master's degree this year and next year will start on his Ph. D.

He expects to be home August 24 for a two weeks' visit.

Former Yacht Club Caretaker Passes

John William Peak, former caretaker of the Prince Rupert Yacht and Rowing Club and well known along the waterfront, died in Prince Rupert General Hospital last night at the age of 83. Born in England in 1864, he spent the greater part of his life as a sailor. He retired as yacht club caretaker several years ago. He has no known relatives in British Columbia.

Mining Notes

According to H. D. Forman, mine manager of the Torbrit Silver Mines Ltd., work is already quite well advanced in the widening and the general improvement of the old Dolly Varden railway right of way, with which the building of a short piece of new road will connect the Torbrit property with the beach at Alice Arm. A sawmill at Alice Arm has been cutting lumber for some time and during July lumber supplies will be hauled to the mine which is situated about 18 miles from the beach. The lumber will be used in connection with a 300-ton mill to be installed at the mine.

AIR SHOPPING IN EDMONTON

Flying Service Fills Orders From Isolated Far North Folk

EDMONTON, 7.—Two Edmonton women started a unique personal shopping service for women in northern outposts who can only make rare visits to civilization.

Mrs. Betty Smith and Mrs. S. S. Blanchard will also arrange for hotel, train and other reservations, arrange appointments with doctor or beauty parlor and even completely organize a wedding.

They got the idea from Christmas shopping excursions which Mrs. Blanchard, widow of Wing Cdr. S. Blanchard, used to make for people up the North West Staging Route. She shopped for air force and army personnel stationed in out-of-the-way places in the north.

So enthusiastically was this service received that last year the two women travelled up the Alaska Highway, taking shopping orders from construction camp workers.

They plan to make several

B. F. Messner, veteran mining man from Smithers was in Prince Rupert not long ago. He has been in Vancouver on business connected with property in Omineca and is to prepare his ground there for examination by a mining company.

The proposed dissolution of the Premier Gold Mining Co. Ltd., continues to be actively opposed, this opposition being led by A. N. Wolverton, stockbroker, and J. E. R. Wood, a mining engineer. Directors of the company will submit the proposal to the company shareholders at a meeting on June 17.

trips up north each year to take orders and also make personal contacts.

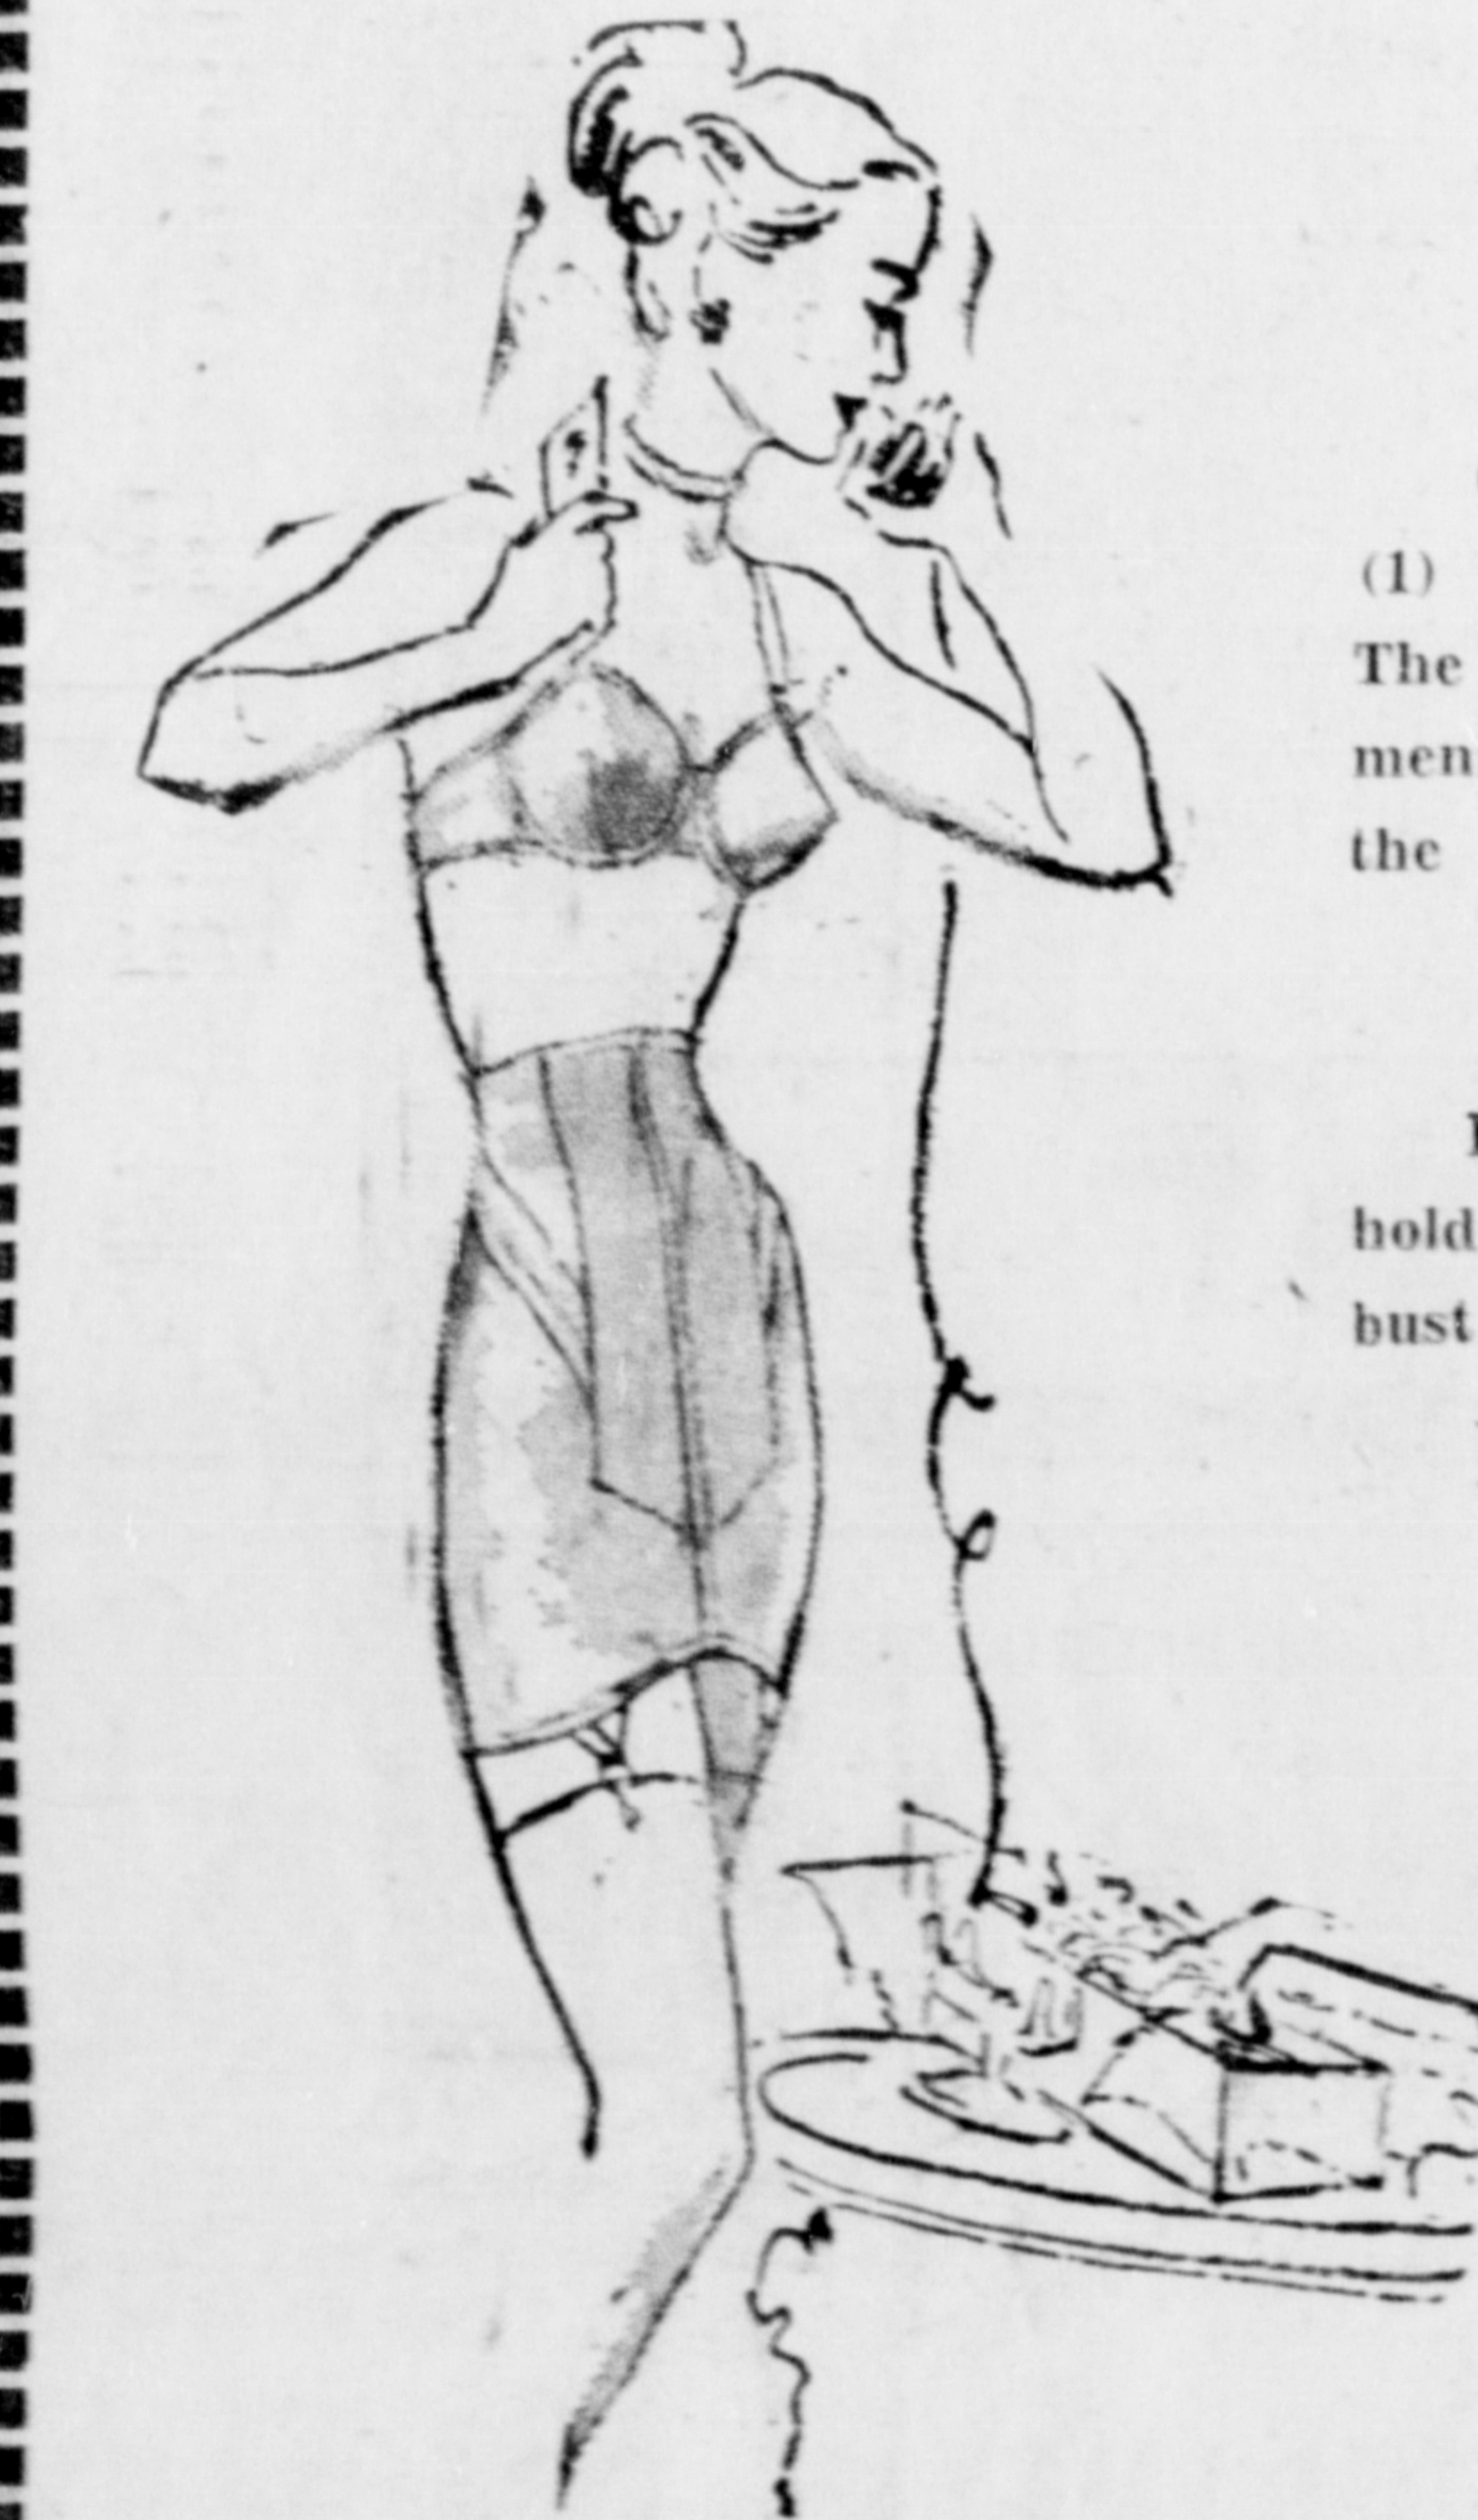

They say they are willing to buy anything that can possibly be bought. There is only one request they will refuse pointing-blank—no baby-sitting jobs.
