LOCAL NAVAL DIVISION IS ACTIVE; TRAINING BEING REGULARLY GIVEN

Prince Rupert's Naval Reserve Division is active again under Lt.-Cdr. O. G. Stuart, D.S.C., R.C.N. (R). The strength is not great as yet with five officers and thirteen men but the personnel is enthusiastic. Since the first of the month there have been weekly parades each Monday evening. Instruction is being given in anti-submarine, seamanship and gunnery with Lt.

Eric Jones R.C.N., permanent BABY BUGGY IS naval staff officer here, and his ten men giving skilled and generous co-operation.

Training officers of the divi-sion, all experienced active ser- THING SAVED vice men of the recent war, are: Seamanship and gunnery, Lt.

Cdr. J. D. McRae. Communications, Lt. Walter Smith.

Anti - Submarine, Lt. Tom Johnstone.

Supply and Secretariat, Lt. Carl Smith.

The division is excellently requipped now with all the antisubmarine gear here and the most of the other equipment also on hand.

> The floating equipment includes two 32-foot motor cutters, 46-foot diesel harbor craft with a 50-foot motor diesel tug on the way. These eraft will not only be used for training but will also be availabe for emergency purposes, life-saving or general coastguard work in co-operation with the Department of Transport and the provincial police.

Arrangements have been made for Air Mechanic G. A. Rhodes and Ordinary Seaman C. L. Youngman to proceed on summer cruises and courses this

The complete personnel of the division is as follows:

Lt. Cdr. O. G. Stuart D.S.C. Lt. Cdr. (g) J. D. McRae. (C) C. V. Smith, Sub. Lt. W. J.

What is believed to be the only piece of property saved by any of the tenants of the Clapp and Shortridge apartments when fire swept the two buildings early this morning was a baby buggy belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Donald McGeachy who occupied Suite One.

Parked at the foot of the stairway, the perambulator was snatched out by a bystander. It later turned up inside the Civic Centre, where it was claimed by the young couple for their child.

Mr. and Mrs. McGeachy took refuge this morning in the Prince Rupert Hotel where several other dispossessed victims of the blaze also took temporary thought it was broken. Then he

"There were no flames in evidence at that time, but there was plenty of smoke. It was dark and dangerous. A fireman assisted my wife down the stairway," he recalled. Mr. and Mrs. Chapple did not get to bed until 2 o'clock this morning. They were roused by smoke and noise less than an hour later.

"We stayed up late while my Lt. (t) T. A. Johnstone, Lt. wife made preparations to receive our daughter and her family who are arriving either on the Catala or Camosun today. he said. "My wife was baking and making general preparations. We haven't any place to ceive them now."

Mr. Chapple is employed at the Skeena Lumber Co. at Billmor and came to the city last night.

LADIES' BOWLING LEAGUE BANQUET

Presentation of Trophies Features Affair Winding Un Season

The Ladies' Five Pin Bowling League season was climaxed on Tuesday evening by a banquet in the Commodore Cafe with 100 members of the Ladies' Bowling League, both "A" and "B," present and president of the league. Mrs. A. E. Dickens jr., as official hostess for the occasion.

Seasonal team trophies were presented during the evening.

The first cup, presented by Annette Woods for annual competition, was won by Annette's.

The runner-up, won by Watts and Nickerson, was donated by Sweet Sixteen and presented by the manageress of that store, Mrs. S. E. Alexander Individual trophies presented by the Ladies' Bowling League, were won by Dora MacPhee of Savoy Ewingers for high average score of 200; Vivian Wrathall of Watts and Nickerson, for bowling high single score of 385, and Mrs. E. Smith of Annettes for rolling a high-three of 692.

The Toilers of "A" League and Atlin Fisheries of "B" League tied for a consolation cup presented to the team winning the least games. In a toss-up, Atlin Fisheries held down the bottom place and thus received the cup.

A gift of $10 from the Rex Bowling Alleys was voted to go as a donation to the Conquer Cancer Fund.

Mrs. Carl Erickson and Miss Gertrude Stangebye each received small gifts in appreciation of their services as secretaries to "A" and "B" leagues respectively.

Featured after the dinner hour was an item of entertainment by each of the teams. Original prose and poetry set to music occasioned some hilarious moments and provided a fivestar finale for Unis season's 5-pin league.
