E. T. Applewhite Reminisces to Service Clubs on Liberal Convention

A non-political description of a great national political convention was given the Prince Rupert Gyro Club at yesterday's weekly luncheon by E. T. Applewhite who was one of the local delegates to the recent Liberal national convention in Ottawa. Many interesting facts about the mechanics of such a gathering were presented and an occasional human interest incident recalled.

Mr. Applewhite closed with an expression of what he believed the value and importance of local organizations being ably represented at such important gatherings as national and provincial conventions. They paid off in the new knowledge, enthusiasm and viewpoints brought back to the local organization by the delegate, in the opportunity of the local angles being presented in the larger sphere and in the good publicity and prestige that was obtained for a community through effective representation. "I think one good live delegate at a convention is worth more than thousands of pamphlets," declared Mr. Applewhite.

Mr. Applewhite held that the national convention of any major political party was something of importance and interest to the general public. That could also be said for the national Conservative convention now opening in the same Forum in Ottawa. He told of the elaborate preparations made for the accommodation of public and press at the convention. In fact, Conservative observers were among those in attendance, having access to everything but the caucuses and committees.

The work of the resolutions committee had been a tremendous task. Indeed this committee, so time-taking and intensive were its deliberations, was hard-pressed to keep up with the convention.

The triple objective of the convention Mr. Applewhite gave as improvement of a badly deteriorated party organization, promulgation of a new platform and election of a leader.

Elaborate decoration of the convention hall featured the motto "Unity, Security, Freedom" in red, white and blue shields. Both interior and exterior were a blaze of color.

Notable was the spontaneous and genuine applause which greeted the name of Sir Wilfrid Laurier every time it was mentioned. There was something heart-warming about this obvious veneration and esteem.

Western delegates may have been in the minority but they had certainly made themselves heard, the most notable occasion being when British Columbia and Alberta broke down eastern opposition to force each of the leadership candidates to be heard for 20 minutes before the election.

ST. LAURENT ELECTION Mr. Applewhite expressed the opinion that Louis St. Laurent would have been the choice as leader under any circumstances but felt that it was due to the tense international situation that he had been given the overwhelming first ballot choice. Doubtless, he was the most experienced man of all in international affairs.

Other outstanding incidents described by the speaker included the presentation by Prime Minister King of a special badge to the elderly man from Alberta who had been a delegate at three Liberal conventions; the meeting to be followed by a thrilling reception accorded to Messrs. Smallwood and Bradley of Newfoundland, and the impression that had been made by British Columbia's own Premier Byron Johnson.

A vote of thanks was proposed to Mr. Applewhite by Allan M. Hurst.

Past President C. G. Ham was in the chair and a luncheon guest was C. Vincent of Vancouver. C. C. Mills, one of the veteran members of the club, was warmly welcomed back after an absence of several months due to illness.

Next week's Gyro gathering will take the form of a dinner meeting to be followed by a stag party at the home of A. J. Dominato. Announcement was made of the appointment of R. H. Joyce, A. M. Hurst, Allan Sheardown and William Cruickshank as a committee for the annual Apple Day. W. F. Stone will head the annual hoedown dance committee while Martin Van Cooten, Jack Bulger and George Rorie have been assigned to make arrangements for a forthcoming stag party.

ALASKA PLANE ARRIVES HERE

First Ellis Airline plane to fly from Ketchikan to Prince Rupert in more than a year with passengers alighted here Tuesday afternoon bearing three people who will visit the Queen Charlotte Islands.

The flight was made following easing of stringent regulations which formerly hampered the movement of aircraft and passengers into Canada from Alaska. More such flights are expected. Passengers on the light plane were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd M. Yeltatzie and small daughter of Hyaburg, Alaska, who will visit Mr. Yeltatzie's former home at Massett.

The plane was piloted by Bob Ellis, Ketchikan mayor.

The Experts Say...

If the housewife wants to try a hand at some all-Canadian dessert—she doesn't have to go very far.

At her back door right now she may have a tree laden down with apples. And if not, the town market should be filled with bushels of the crisp, rosy fruit, which perhaps grows better in Canada, and in more quantity than in any other country in the world.

The Dominion department of agriculture has devoted a booklet exclusively to ways and means of eating apples, in salads, desserts, and even as a relish with the main course of a meal.

To enjoy apples with baked ham the following ingredients are needed: one slice of uncooked ham about 1½ inches thick; one teaspoon dry mustard; two teaspoons vinegar; two apples; one-half cup brown sugar; one teaspoon butter.

Trim rind off ham. Mix mustard and vinegar together and spread on ham. Slice apples thinly and spread on layers on ham. Sprinkle with brown sugar and dot with butter. Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees Fahrenheit until ham is tender—about 45 minutes.

Apple Cup Salad makes a choice luncheon dish. Core the apples and scoop out pulp to make apple cups. Fill a bowl with cold water and as each apple cup is made, put the cup in the water.

Dice enough celery to equal one-half apple pulp. Mix celery and apple pulp with one cup cottage or cream cheese. Blend with salad dressing.

Dry apple cups and fill with mixture. Serve on crisp beds of lettuce.

And for a dessert you can never go wrong with an apple upside down cake.

brown sugar; three apples. One quarter cup butter; one-third cup white sugar; one egg; one-quarter cup molasses; one cup flour; one teaspoon salt; one teaspoon ginger; one-half teaspoon cinnamon; one-third cup boiling water.

Melt one-quarter cup butter in baking dish. Add the brown sugar and cook together. Pare and core apples. Cut each apple in half to make two thick rings. Arrange rings of apples in butter and sugar mixture. Cream one-quarter cup butter. Add white sugar and cream well together. Add well-beaten egg and molasses. Beat thoroughly.

Sift dry ingredients and add to mixture. Lastly add boiling water, mixing quickly. Pour over apples in baking dish and bake in moderate oven 350 degrees Fahrenheit for 40 minutes. Serves six.

Housewives have found that apples can be useful for other things as well as food. Discolored aluminum pans may be brightened by boiling apple parings in them for a time.
