Ketchikan Ball Series Arranged

The executive of the Prince Rupert Baseball Association last week decided to accept Ketchikan's proposal for a four-day, six-game series the first four days of July.

Saturday, July 1, there will be a double-header here. Sunday there will be one game here. On July 3, Prince Rupert will go to Ketchikan to play the first game of the return series. On the Americans' great holiday the local boys will play the remaining two games against the Alaskans.

Art Murray, president of the local baseball association, looks for some top notch games.

Eleven women employees of the Canadian Fishing Co. plant at Carlisle arrived in the city aboard the Coquitlam Sunday from Vancouver.

Such As It Was— Lots Of Ball Seen Sunday

Last week sports writers all over the country considered the 29-4 shellacking the St. Louis Browns took as big news and wrote it as such, but here is a story for them today. Yesterday at the Roosevelt Park diamond a crew of construction workers tried their hand at baseball and were sadly out of their element. They finally managed to get the last man out shortly before dinner hour and the Commercial Hotel went home with somewhere around thirty runs to their credit with Watson Island ending up with a meagre two.

Manager Dan Doswell of the Island outfit tried everything but hypnotism on his club but one can't make a sow's ear out of a purse or something like that, so Dan finally had to give up even clapping his hands to show the boys where the bench was. Everything seemed to go against Watson Island, but the Commercial Hotel club was more to blame than anything else. Sammy Sinclair, who is more at home in boxing togs, started off his pitching career very nicely and, if he never pitches again, he will still have something to tell his children about. Sammy had trouble getting used to the rather awkward pitcher's rubber at the beginning of the fracas but settled down to give a good account of himself throwing nothing but fast balls.

It was a nice afternoon up on the hill and it gave people who don't usually see much baseball a chance to crowd a lot of stuff into one afternoon.

After all, baseball is made up of runs, hits and errors and there were enough yesterday to do for some time.
