

Day Reflects and Reminisces

Someone who has never been to a cocktail party is sometimes puzzled. Here's what Premier Wood of Newfoundland says: "Personally I do not drink anything stronger than chocolate shakes, but I could enroll in a party a bit more provided chairs. This business of standing around for an hour holding a full or empty glass and pretending that you are enjoying yourself is my conception of the last word in futility."

Sale of yellow oleo is being permitted in Ohio. In Ontario, we continue to buy it with an anaemic look. (Ex.)

Our pet perennial peeve, about this time of the year is that, with so many choice things we want in the stores, people will persist in buying so many things we don't want. Selfish, is it? Well, somebody has to be a selfish brute!

Much depends on the other fellow's point of view. We asked a Vancouver salesman, who had motored here, what shape the highway was in. "Pretty fair I made it here, all right". But the other party worked up a scowl that ended with a growl.

The hired man and the horse have a job to do with Canadian agriculture when you get right down to cases. Some farms, today, show impressive displays of mechanical gadgets and we read, or try to, ponderous reports concerning annual yields, soil composition, overseas markets and devaluation. Yet the hired man and the horse remain no less important. In fact, on the average small farm, (and they are in the majority) each may be said to be indispensable. The car has by no means despoiled Dobbin. He's still mighty handy to have around.

Jewelry salesman: "You get the girl, we'll do the rest."
Young groom: "That hardly seems fair."
Dazed Motorist (regaining consciousness): "I had the right of way, didn't I?"
Bystander: "Yeah, but the other fellow had the truck."

Jaycees Enjoy Christmas Party

The Junior Chamber of Commerce held its annual Christmas Dinner and Dance at the Commodore Friday night with arrangements made by the entertainment chairman, George Tomlinson.

Mayor Arnold and Fire Chief Earl Becker were the guests of honor and Mayor Arnold thanked the Junior Chamber for their work in the Community during the past year and wished them every success in the future.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of a partner to the secretary Geoff. Hill which turned out to be one of the dummy's from a local store and a very silent partner.

The dinner was followed by

The George Matthew Adams Service, Inc. "Here's another one I can't get off!"
