s Emily Davidson Honored Masset School

SSET—History was made when Emily Davidson, ter of Mr. and Mrs. Robavidson, became the first from the reserve to graduate from Masset high school. was the only member of raduating class.

his remarks to the gradJ. A. Findlay, Indian intendent, said he only d "there were half a dozen em." However, he expresse hope that Miss Davidson be "the first of many."

ncipal Norman Green ed the exercises. He was red by Howard Phillips, senting the school board, Godfrey Kelly, who spoke half of the parents of the ates. He expressed the appreciation of the Native people for the co-operation shown by Masset school board and teachers. He also included the teachers of the reserve day school, who were present in the audience.

Following Emily Davidson, who made a pretty picture as she gave her valedictory, there was a short musical program by the students. It consisted of piano solos by Marjorie Minaker, Marilyn Linder and Ann Stewart-Burton and classical saxophone solos by Rufus Abrahams, jr.

During the evening, Mrs. C. Martin, president of the P.-T.A. presented students with prizes won in the P.-T.A. essay contest. Following are the winners:

Grades V and VI — Faith Simpson, Betty Singer and honorary mention Judy Minaker.

Grades VII, VIII and IX—Bruce Hageman, Mary Ann Bellis and honorary mention Katherine Pauloski.

Grades X, XI and XII—Ann Stewart-Burton, Sydna Evans and honorary mention Joyce Evans.

Mrs. Martin also presented three honorable mention prizes won in the Cancer Society essay contest to Ann Stewart-Burton, Sydna Evans and Joy Leary.

Refreshments were served to the large gatherng, and a snort dance concluded the evening.

Trollers Having Big Season— Springs Abundant, Prices High

With prices at high levels and the run of spring salmon the heaviest in four years, trollers in this area are experiencing a profitable season.

Well on to two thousand boats are estimated to be out, dotting the waters of Hecate Straits outside of Squadaree.

Weather conditions have been favorable of late and packers of B.C. Packers, Canadian Fishing Co., John Clausen & Son and Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative have been having a busy time bringing in the fish mostly for fresh shipments to a buoyant market.

Prices at Prince Rupert waterfront today are 30c per pound for red springs, 15c for whites and 20c for cohoes.

Cheap Power In Ketchikan

JUNEAU — Ketchikan enjoys the lowest residential electricity rates in Alaska and for some classes and quantities of service offers lower rates than many cities in the United States, according to a report just issued by the Federal Power Commission.

Juneau rates are slightly lower than those of Ketchikan for commercial service and at some load levels for commercial light service, it is revealed in the report entitled "Alaska Power Market Survey."

Ketchikan rates are shown by the report to be more reasonable in many categories than those of Farmingdale, New York; Freeport, Texas; Columbus, Nebraska; American Fork, Utah; Eureka and Fort Bragg, California, and Raymond, Washington among the 15 United States communities selected by the Federal Power Commission for purposes of comparison.

For 250 k.w.h. of residential service the typical net monthly electricity bill in various Alaska communities would be as follows: Ketchikan $7, Petersburg $8.25 Juneau $8.57, Wrangell $11.05, Kodiak $12.25, Skagway $13, Anchorage $14.33, Cordova $15, Seward (city system) $16.50, Seward (private company) $17.10, Sitka $17.50, Fairbank s $18, Valdez $22.75, and Nome $37.50.

Timely Recipes

Fish Whirls, Cheese Sauce

Fish whirls, with the fish fillets rolled around a dill pickle, baked and served with cheese sauce, have unusual eye and appetite appeal as a main course. Fillet of sole or haddock are equally suitable for this dish. The cheese for the sauce is sharp pasteurized process cheese, chosen for flavor and meltability.

Bake these fish whirls on an oven-proof platter which can come straight from oven to table.

FISH WHIRLS

1 pound fillet of sole or haddock
Salt, pepper
6 small dill pickles
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Parsley

CHEESE SAUCE

2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
¼ teaspoon thyme
1 cup shredded sharp pasteurized process cheese

Sprinkle the fillets with salt and pepper. Place a dill pickle across each fillet and roll up like a jelly roll. Fasten with a toothpick and cut in half. Place cut side up on a well-greased, shallow, oven-proof platter. Make a cream sauce with the butter or margarine, flour and milk. Add the thyme and season to taste with salt and pepper. Add the cheese and stir until it melts. Pour the cheese sauce around the fish. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 400 degrees, for 20 minutes. Garnish with parsley and serve at once.

No Gardening For Skipper

Plans Of Capt. L. Sheppard For Future Undecided

VICTORIA — When Capt. Llewellyn Sheppard rang down "finished with engines" aboard the fisheries partol vessel Laurier here, the action marked the end, barring paper-work details, of a 30-year career with the fisheries department on this coast.

The short, cheery skipper has retired on pension.

Born at Harbor Grace, Nfld., Capt. Sheppard went to sea out of St. John's and came to B.C. in 1910. After working for two years with the Consolidated Whaling Co., he became first officer aboard James Dunsmuir's yacht Dolaura.

He went overseas with the Royal Navy in 1915, returned to Victoria in 1919, then joined the Department of Naval Service—forerunner of the Fisheries Department—on April 1, 1920.

Asked what he planned to do now that he was "beached" Capt. Sheppard, with the ever-present twinkle in his eyes, replied, "that's the $64 question, but my wife and I will spend next winter in Boston. After that, I don't know.

"Gardening? Goodness no—if I took up gardening there would be a divorce in the family—and I'm too old to start looking for another wife," he chuckled.

The 63-year-old captain knows the B.C. coast like the back of his hand.

"I'll miss it after knocking about here for 30 years," he mused.

He recalled an incident years ago when he served in the Malaspina when the ship came upon a Seattle fishboat, the Siloam, fishing inside the three-mile limit.

"He was a noted poacher, and did not stop when we signalled him. So we shot at him and hit a man in the wheelhouse. The man died while we were taking him to a shore hospital . . . that case went on for years," Capt. Sheppard said.

Poaching is practically unknown now, however, he said, but there have been a number of illegal entries, where U.S. fishermen pretend to need repairs and come into a Canadian harbor just to rest.

NEW SKIPPERS

Retirement of Capt. Sheppard means there will be new skippers on the three fisheries patrol ships which operate out of Victoria.

Capt. Walter Redford, now on the Howay, will take over the Laurier; Capt C. W. Earnshaw, now on the Kitimat, will move to the Howay, and Capt. Ray Chester will move up from first officer on the Howay to take command of the Kitimat.

CHEAM, Surrey, England Ⓟ — Anyone who thinks a schoolmarm's life is easy should try facing a "pile of 50 composition books after teaching all day," says Miss D. L. Cooley, retiring headmistress at St. Dunstan's school here.
