

New Scoring Mixed Bowls

All teams, which are now re-arranged into "A" and "B" leagues in Mixed Bowling League, got a fresh start as far as standings are concerned last Wednesday night. With previous point standings wiped off and the first week of the second under way, more interest will be shown by all bowlers and teams as they will be more evenly handicapped in their respective divisions.

High ladies' single game was by R. Pobereny of Cantels with 324.
High three game total for ladies was rolled by A. Pierce of Fashion Footwear with 667.
The Great West Life team produced the high men's scores for the evening with R. Tubb bowling 313 for high single and tying E. Moustallam for the high three game total of 754.
Incidentally the high three and high single game season record totals for men in the Mixed League are held by T. Crawley of Optomists with 355 and 261.

Ketchikan Takes Second of International Hoop Series

Ketchikan won the second of the four-game international high school basketball series in an exciting and close 42-to-39 struggle Saturday night. It was anybody's game right up to the last minute with Bo-Me-Hi having the edge of the play all through the first half with Kay-Hi the top team in

Neville Gerrard Goes to Victoria

Neville Gerrard, for the past five years manager of the Seal Cove plant of the B.C. Packers, has been appointed manager of the Victoria plant of the company and will assume his new duties at the New Year, according to announcement made today.
Mr. and Mrs. Gerrard will be leaving shortly for the south. They have made many friends here and their departure will be regretted.
Mr. Gerrard, a member of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club, has been particularly active in musical circles as conductor of the Prince Rupert Philharmonic Society.

Blackwood On Bridge

By Easley Blackwood
I have had a number of letters from readers telling me that my articles on bridge humanies are all very good when you know the players at the table but no good at all when you are playing with strangers.
That is a good point but it is not entirely true. I am going to write for you a series of articles on the humanics of playing with strangers and my very first piece of advice is a basic bit of humanics which can be applied at once even though you have never seen any of the other players before in your life.
It is this: If you don't know your partner's bidding style and credo, don't make any bids he will not understand. That sounds like a big order, doesn't it?
Let's get more specific. Don't use any type of bids, the requirements for which are subject to a wide variance of opinion. One such type of bid is the opening bid of three in a suit. Neither side vulnerable. North dealer.
West: S-9 7 H-A 9 4 D-K J 9 2 C-K 8 6 3
East: S-6 H-Q 7 3 D-Q 10 7 6 4 C-J 10 7 5
South (Mr. Champion) S-10 3 2 H-K J 10 6 5 2 D-A 8 5 C-9
Saw my friend Mr. Champion get caught on today's hand. He held the South cards and his partner was a complete stranger to him. North opened the bidding with three spades and everybody passed.
East didn't want to lead away from any of his honors and so opened his small trump. North won with the 10 on the board, led a club and finessed his queen. When this held he simply cross-ruffed clubs and diamonds and conceded one heart trick. Six-odd!
Mr. Champion and his partner were at each others' throats immediately. Mr. Champion said whoever heard of opening with a three-bid on a hand that good. North replied that he always used the two-way three bid, advocated by a bridge authority and requiring partner to bid something if he has as much as one and a half tricks.
This explanation left Mr. Champion cold. He is his own authority. His opening three bid is a long, broken suit and practically no high cards. Well, there you have it—complete disagreement.
I think old Mr. Dale would have bid four spades on the South cards. He would probably have figured that the bid couldn't be hurt much and that he'd better be in game just in case North did use a strong three bid.
However, we can't blame Mr. Champion here. The real culprit was North who shouldn't have used a "controversial" bid with a new partner.
E. C. Mayo returned to the city on the Camosun yesterday afternoon from a trip to Vancouver.
E. W. Gray, shop foreman with the Vancouver firm of W. A. Thom Sheet Metal Works Ltd., arrived aboard the Princess Louise this morning on a business trip to the city.

Harold Battye, formerly Western Representative of Reliance Chemicals Ltd., has been appointed a Special Representative for the British Columbia Distillery Company Limited.
In announcing the new appointment, Mr. Roy MacGregor, General Manager of the British Columbia Distillery, stated that the new position was in line with the general expansion program being carried out by the Company.

Spring was a driving force for Bo-Me-Hi and was outlacked a lot during the final hectic minutes. He scored 14 points. Simonson and Letourneau turned in good games and were much surer of themselves than on the previous evening. Henry Blackaby was another fine player who had had luck on his body contacts to go out in the final quarter on five fouls, all of them earned but none that could be classed deliberate. Bo-Me-Hi had a much better team than on the previous evening and the fans went home well pleased with the game they played; it being no disgrace to lose such a close thriller.
JUNIOR PRELIMINARY
Rupert Hotel took over the lead in the Junior race as they won a 29 to 24 victory over High School who had shared top place with them until Saturday night. High School took an early lead which they held until the final period into which they went with a 21 to 14 margin. In the last period, which was very rough, the game got out of hand, Smith from Rupert Hotel being benched along with Martin from High School. Rupert Hotel raced away with the game in this quarter as they scored 15 points to their opponents' three. Just what disciplinary action will be taken with Smith and Martin depends on whether the referees submit a written report. If they do, the boys are liable for a suspension if the league executive sees fit to clamp down.
Tomorrow night action in all local leagues gets under way again, when Brownwoods meet Co-op in the senior division, Manson's play Cook's in the Junior, and Thunderbirds and High Gold, along with Fashion and High Green, play an Intermediate doubleheader.
