POST PRIZE FOR ENGLISH SHOW

Prince Rupert Rotary Club will post a prize of $50 worth of woodworking tools for hobbyists in Poole, England, in a second gesture of international good will to the same overseas club. The action was taken at the club's weekly luncheon meeting Thursday following receipt of a letter from the Poole Rotary Club.

The letter recalled an offer by the local club to maintain its association with Poole to which it was responsible for sending gifts of food and clothing a year ago. The Poole club stated that it was sponsoring a hobby show and asked if the Prince Rupert club would care to contribute a prize.

Discussion of the letter yesterday resulted in the local club authorizing an expenditure of up to $50 for woodworking tools to be sent as a prize for the hobby competition.

Major part of the discussion at yesterday's luncheon centered around the Skeena River barrel derby which will take place June 30.

Guests at the meeting, welcomed by President D. C. Stevenson were Bernard Allen and E. W. Johnson of Vancouver. The club welcomed back Max Heilbronner, who returned this week from a visit to the United States.
