A country editor retired with a fortune. Asked the secret of his success he replied: I attribute my ability to retire with $100,000 savings, after 30 years in newspaper work, to diligent application to work, pursuing a policy of strict honesty, practicing rigorous rules of economy, and to the death of my uncle who left me $110,000.

Mr. Richmond was caretaker for many years of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station while it was located here. During the war he joined the dry dock staff and left there in 1946 to take up residence in Vancouver with his niece.

Deceased was born 72 years ago in Glasgow, Scotland, and came to Canada as a young man. The late James Richmond, who many years ago was in business first at Hazelton and later at Terrace, was a brother.
