NTOMIMES E POPULAR

ll Dear to Heart of itons at Christmas

ONDON—It takes more than erity to discourage in the test degree, the Christmas tomimes, dear to the heart very Briton, young and old. ey have been going on ever 1606, and this season, ap-ntly, with greater vim than ever. Theatres have made arrangements on a prodigious scale. All the old favorites—"Cinderella," "Humpty Dumpty," "Babes in the Wood" to mention only a few, will charm immense audiences. Seniors, as well as juveniles, will revel in "Jack and the Beanstalk," "Aladdin" and know holiday joys again, allowing dull care to take care of itself for a while.

CHRISTMAS AT FRANCOIS LAKE

Children and Grown-ups Celebrate Season

FRANCOIS LAKE—On Saturday evening the Women's and Farmers' Institutes combined to a delightful Christmas social evening primarily for the children although the grown-ups enjoyed it too.

The hall had been decorated by the school children with evergreens and various colorful cut-outs adorned the walls. A huge decorated tree was placed on the stage.

The entertainment started with the showing of pictures by Mr. Hurstfield. Master of ceremonies was Gordon Funnell.

With Mrs. J. Grainger accompanying on the piano everyone sang several of the old favorite familiar carols and the school children sang "Away In A Manger." Then bells heralded the arrival of Santa Claus who danced his way to the platform among cheers and laughter from everyone. He passed out presents—each child had one, also a bag of candy, nuts and fruit.

Later the hall was cleared and the children played games supervised by J. Reed, the Senior grades teacher. Apples were hung in rows from the ceiling and the youngsters played "bob-apple" for some time. At the close of the games period scores of colored balloons which had been hung across the hall were loosened and they floated down among the waiting children who caught them.

The children were seated in rows down the hall and were generously helped to sandwiches and cake of all kinds and cocoa.

Lunch was served to the grown-ups and the orchestra started up for dancing which continued until 2 o'clock.

The Christmas service on Sunday morning at the church was well attended. The church was beautifully decorated by the children with evergreen and a Christmas tree. Rev. A. Atkinson of Burns Lake preached a helpful sermon and old favorite carols were sung.

After a spell of sub-zero weather and bitterly cold winds, the temperature moderated on Saturday and the snow started to go. There was a shower of rain on Sunday.

Work on the Perlite claim has been discontinued for the time being. One hundred tons of ore has been shipped out for experimental purposes. The combined office and store is completed and the tools stored away until work is resumed.

FOLKESTONE, England (CP)—A. F. Butler, an amateur gardener, has produced three new varieties of chrysanthemums, and has named one after his mother-in-law. The other two he has named after his wife and son.
