New Talent Located—Drama Club Had Good Year—Girl Guides Get Camp

A lot of hidden talent came to light in Terrace last week in the recent entertainments at the Civic Centre. The Christmas Concert brought out young Jimmy Proctor as a pleasing soloist and Frank Gavan immediately engaged him to sing with his dance orchestra at the New Year's Eve cabaret, Jimmy, a Grade Twelve student, sang with a guitar trio "Beautiful Dreamer." The entertainment was sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association and drew a very large crowd. Trained by the teaching staff, the children performed excellently. Little girls from Division 5 looked like little fairies dancing across the stage and the "Sailors Hornpipe," danced by the boys of the same division, drew hearty applause. Piano solos were played by Claudia King and Marilyn de Kergommeaux. Aaron Havel and played a very sweet violin selection and Lawrence Kirkaldy contributed with a well played trumpet solo. There were other vocal solos by Anita Brue and Gloria Irving, a duet by Alanna Cushing and Diane Paquette and two quartettes from the High School with Peggy Laird, Rose-Marie Tetrault, Valerie Craig and Pat Tumilson singing "Holy Night" and Betty McCabe, Joyce Perry, Marie Lindstrom, Joan Atwood and Colleen Sites singing "Winter Wonderland." The Civic Centre's large stage was a splendid setting for the three plays which were so well done by the young children. There was no crowding and they went over very well. C. Michiel was the announcer and total proceeds amounted to approximately $165.

Miss Margaret Ross, matron of the Terrace hospital, returned on Saturday morning from the Okanagan where she spent the past month on holiday.

C. H. Sawie, publisher of the Okanagan Herald, was in town Thursday and Friday last to attend the Masonic installation of officers and banquet.

To wind up the Drama Club's activities for the year a party was held in the Orange Hall last Thursday evening and members of the recent cast with their friends and members of the symphony orchestra were all there. Convened by Janet Wade, games, dancing and charades formed the evening's entertainment and refreshments were served by the committee. President of the Drama Club, Stephen Howlett, gave his report of the recent production, proceeds from which amounted to over $230 for the two nights of entertainment. Another production will be staged in the spring and it is hoped that it will take the form of a musical comedy.

M. M. Stephens, sheriff of Prince Rupert, was in town last week on business and was taken out to Alvanah by the Skeena Airways.

C. Buchanan, assistant superintendent of telegraphs at Smithers, was in Terrace last week on business and in this connection a radio-telephone was installed at Alvanah, B. Clarke flying there by Skeena Airways to do the work on it.

The Kinsmen of Prince Rupert are donating the use of their camp at Lakelse Lake to the Girl Guides for the first two weeks in July with the sole provision that their camp director, Curly Casey, will be in charge. As is well known, the Guides are not allowed to solicit for funds so that means a winter and spring of money-making activities to raise the money to pay the director's salary, food and transportation for the girls. Girl Guide Captain Melroy and Patrol Leader Margaret Kennedy have both passed this week their tests for second class Guides.

Dr. R. G. Large, Masonic District Deputy Grand Master of Prince Rupert, and about 20 Masons came in to Terrace on Thursday night for the installation ceremony and banquet of the local lodge. They returned on Friday morning to the coast.

Alfred Timms of the Merchant Navy returned on Saturday morning's train to spend Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Timms of Kitselas. He has been on the high seas for the past two years.

Norbert Cote is relieving this month at the post office where extra help has been needed to handle the large volume of traffic going through it this time of the year.

Lloyd Johnstone and Fred Kirby have returned from a business trip to Vancouver. They made the return journey by truck, purchased in the south, in thirty hours driving time and reported that the highway was good all the way.

Roy Clifford returned last Tuesday from Ottawa where he was invested with the Scouts Silver medal for bravery by the Governor General.

Temperatures fell rapidly in Terrace at the beginning of last week and the town has been in the grip of sub-zero weather. Strong gales shook the houses

MARKETING DISCUSSED

Terrace Institute Hears District Agriculturalist—Quarrying for Lime

TERRACE—At a meeting of the Farmers' Institute held in the Credit Union Hall, Ken Jamieson, district agriculturalist, was the guest speaker and his topic was "Prospects of Marketing under the B. C. Coast Marketing Act." A question period followed.

Tom Olsen was in the chair and the secretary, Floyd Frank, gave his report on the progress of the quarrying of lime for agricultural purposes in the district. The lime quarry is past Shames on the Prince Rupert Highway. To date, 55 tons have been quarried by Otto Matz and Tom Olsen. None has been crushed yet. It is expected that it will sell for $10 a ton.

Mr. Jamieson said he expects to have the land clearing machinery here, late in July. There are still two months work to be done with it in the Smithers vicinity, and from there it will come straight to Terrace where there are 200 to 300 acres ready for clearing.

Mr. Jamieson was asked to contact other Farmers' Institutes and Co-operatives along the line with the idea in view of marketing produce jointly. However, some felt that, as the markets for disposal of Terrace produce were good on the whole, they would lose out if all produce was marketed co-operatively.

Following the meeting, Mr. Jamieson left on the late train for his home in Smithers.

Christmas: The Sunday school Xmas party has been arranged for December 16 at the Melvin home and the W.A. will contribute towards it. After the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Canadian Legion Women's Auxiliary scheduled for Wednesday night's meeting was postponed to next month's meeting due to lack of a quorum. However, it was announced that the Auxiliary would serve the lunch in the Legion Hall for the New Year's Eve dance.

INVESTITURE PUBLICIZED

Widespread publicity was given the recent investiture at Ottawa of Roy Clifford with the Boy Scouts' Silver Cross for bravery. Stories and pictures were carried by newspapers throughout the country. Here was the account in the Ottawa Journal:

"A ten-year-old Boy Scout from Windsor, Ont., and a couple of teen age Scouts from Terrace, B. C., and Sherbrooke, Que., shared honors with war heroes at an investiture today at Government House. Gallant deeds during the last year won for the boys a place in the first group of investiture ever held in the history of Canadian Scouting.

The Silver Cross, one of the highest awards in Scout Association gives for bravery, went to Cub Gordon St. Onge, of Windsor for rescuing another boy from drowning in the Detroit River. A courageous effort to save the life of a younger brother when the family home went up in flames won the Silver Cross for 15-year-old Roy Clifford of Terrace.

Rover Henri Chabot, 17, of Sherbrooke, Que., was decorated with the Gall Cross for rescuing his uncle from drowning.
