Sport Shots

When Foster Hewitt, known to millions of Canadians as Canada's "Voice of Hockey" is only a few weeks away from starting his twenty-sixth year of broadcasting. During the past 25 years he has painted a word picture of more than 2,000 hockey games and claims he has yet to call a wrong goal. Foster, who has been a radio announcer since the birth of commercial radio in Canada, got his early training as an ad-libber when he broadcast the arrival of the Empress of Britain at Quebec. Foster got on the air at 7 p.m. and kept talking for nearly four hours until the big ship came into berth.

It seems there's a good chance the Jack Solomns' monopoly of the promotion side of the professional fight game in southern England being broken. Sir Arthur Elvin, Wembley chief who staged the Olympic Games, is considering a return to matching beak-busters. Elvin already does a leading line in boxing by catering for the amateurs. Under him the Wembley Empire Pool, where tournaments are held, became known as "the home of Amateur Boxing." Britain's leading sports impresario has already started his plans.

For stay-at-hom bettors rtying to turn sixpence into £5 notes, there are two enormous opportunities in the British turf year—the "Spring and Autumn Doubles." All you have to do to get odds ranging from 1,000-1 up against your money is to pick two winners. The Spring Double combines the Grand National Steeplechase and the Lincolnshire Handicap. The Autumn Doubles couple the Cesarewitch and Cambridgeshire Handicaps.

But it's tough. G. H. Freer, official handicapper to the Jockey Club, who frames the weights for the big events, knows his horses and so cunningly shuffles the imposts that there can be no degree of probability about the outcome. The public nearly always guesses wrong. Only four favorites have won in the last 21 Lincolnshires, two favorites have won the Cesarewitch in the same period and one has captured the Cambridgeshire.

All Set For Basketball

The Prince Rupert Basketball Association met again Sunday to iron out final details before starting league play in all divisions on November 6.

The Association reversed a previous decision to set an age limit in the Intermediate League, thus bringing the Fashion Footwear team back into the Intermediate fold competing with Stone's, Merchants, High School and Morgan's.

The Girls' League announced that Dom's entry would join forces with Sweet Sixteen to form one team under the sponsorship of Dom's. This division gets underway with Dom's, Peoples, Miller Bay and High School competing for League honors.

One more entry was accepted in the Junior Division with the starting four being Prince Rupert Hotel, North Star, High School and Kinsmen.

High School Seniors were given the green light in their request to play Senior division basketball during the 1948-49 season. A suggestion that their entry be received in this division on a one-month trial basis was rejected by the meeting and they were accepted permanently—so Senior play will see last year's champs, the Co-ops, contending with Brownwods, Savoy and the High School Seniors for top spot honors.

All divisions will adopt the same method for play-offs next spring as the executive decided that the top three teams in each bracket would win play-off berths with top teams receiving byes and second and third teams playing in the semi-finals.

SCHOOL BOARD ADOPTS PLANS

Board of school trustees was in special session Saturday to make a third review of plans for the new building unit for Booth Memorial High School. Revisions were adopted and the plans were taken back to the architects in Vancouver today by the chairman of the board, Dr. R. G. Large, who left this afternoon for the south by plane to attend the annual convention of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.
