Political Straws

ATURALLY enough, the results of the general V elections first in New Zealand and now in Anstralia, both of which countries threw out their Labor governments after ample years of experience with them, intensify speculation as to what will happen in the general eltction in Great Britain next year

There need not be too much assurance, however, that the Old Country is ready yet to turn out its labor government. In the first place, it has only had four years of such government whereas New Zealand has had thirteen years and Australia eight. Further, the Labor government has lost no seats in by-elections even though majorities may have shrunk in some

On the other hand, the growing turning away from socialism, which was to be even observed in Canadian elections during the past year, is not to be discounted. Also in the Old Country there is a growing discontent with the continued austerity which is, no doubt, part of the reason for Britain is today endeavouring to buy from the non-dollar rather than the dollar countries such as United States and Canada. There is also the question of whether Britons are still of the same mind, or at least as enthusiastic, as they were before on the broad question of nationalization of industry and continued control of the very way of living.

Between now and the election day speculation will be rife on whether or not the majority of Britons have yet had their fill of Labor government and are ready to change.

THE VICTORIA NEWSPAPERS

A NNOUNCEMENT that the Victoria Colonist / \ and Victoria Times will be published in a jointly owned plant but with each retaining seperate identities and policies, does not come as a surprise. For a good many years, there has been an increasing tendency among newspapers in both Canada and the United States to reduce costs without impairing efficiency and general service. Sometimes this has taken the form of amalgamation.

Of all the dailies in Western Canada The Colonist is by far the oldest. Founded by an enterprising and original pioneer from Eastern Canada known as Amor de Cosmos, its story is vitually the history of Victoria. Not so long ago, the Colonist printtd its centennial issue, a production of outstanding interest and value.

The Times is also full of years and, like the Colonist, is a respected institution in the Capital City.

DON'T FEAR CRITICISM

THE galleries are full of critics. They play no ball. They fight no fights. They make no mistakes because they attempt nothing. Down in the arena are the doers. They make mistakes because they attempt to try many things.

Ford forgot to put a reverse gear in his first automobile. Edison once spent $2,000,000 on an invention which proved of little value.

The man who makes no mistakes lacks boldness and the spirit of adventure. He is the one who never tries anything. He is the brake on the wheel of progress.

And yet it cannot be truly said he makes no mistakes because the biggest mistake he makes is the very fact that he tries nothing, does nothing except criticize those who do things .- Pittsylvania Star.

PRINCE RUPERT AMBITIOUS

THE Prince Rupert News and The Ketchikan, Alaska, Chronicle have co-operated in a special edition booming Prince Rupert as the great port and terminal to handle traffic to and from Alaska. The boom in the Far North-West of Canada and the United States is not catching the ambitious people of Prince Rupert asleep. They are out to make their community zoom.

Aviation has brought new life to Alaska and Prince Rupert. Also, the proximity of Soviet Russia to this approach to the North American continent makes it a centre of concern.

When things are popping, Prince Rupert intends to make the most of the opportunities presented.—Windsor (Ont.) Daily Star.

Season For Rumors-Winch Out? Johnson To Ottawa?—The Big Split

VICTORIA — The silly season of wild political rumors seems to have come.

As to the rumor that Mr. yers, just because of Coalition. Johnson will throw up the B.C. Premiership and become a federal cabinet minister - well that's the silliest one out. Why should he? Cabinet ministers are a dime a dozen in Ottawa A provincial premier, though proval to "Federal appointees" looked upon as more or less nuisance in Ottawa, is more important than a federal cabinet minister. There are 22 of them, which a lot of people think an extraordinary large number to run a country of less than 12,000,000 people.
