Kindergartens Are Needed

Parent-Teachers Would Have Board Provide Them

The need for more kindergartens and more instruction for the pre-school children of Prince Rupert was stressed by Rev. R. A. Wilson at the regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teacher Council held in the Civic Centre last evening.

Kindergarten does not mean starting school early and consequently prematurely, as many erroneously believe, Mr. Wilson said. It is an opportunity for children to learn co-operation with the teacher and one another so that when they enter school they will be able to derive the utmost benefit from their instruction.

At present there is only one kindergarten in Prince Rupert, Mr. Wilson stated, that sponsored by the First United Church here, which is operated purely voluntarily by Mrs. C. J. O. Olsen. That kindergarten was started in 1946 with 25 children and has now doubled to 50, the utmost capacity for the small group.

"It is embarrassing to turn children away," Mr. Wilson said, "to keep them from coming to church, so to speak, but our kindergarten can only handle so many."

Mr. Wilson suggested that the Parent-Teacher Council take the matter of kindergartens up with the School Board with a view to having what local kindergartens there are taken over by the Department of Education and more established as had recently been done in Ocean Falls. Under government supervision, local kindergartens would be assured of the same privileges as other schools, qualified teachers, a grant from the provincial government, and there would be no charge for children attending.

Council was in unanimous agreement with Mr. Wilson's suggestion. A kindergarten committee consisting of Mrs. Dan Parent, Mrs. Helen Marchildon and Mrs. Henry Lindseth was appointed to meet in the near future and make definite plans to present a case to the School Board.

A letter from the magazine-convenor of the B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation was read, stating that only 15 per cent of the membership of Prince Rupert's P.T.A.'s had subscribed to the magazine, the B.C. Parent-Teacher News. Since 25 per cent was the objective and since the magazine should be of interest to all parents, the letter urged that individual P.T.A.'s initiate a drive for subscriptions to help attain the objective.

TRAFFIC AROUND SCHOOLS

T. G. Bateman, principal of Conrad Street School, commended the city council for a good job in placing the school zone signs around his school. He reminded council, however, that the sign at the top of Sixth Avenue and Donald Street, a dangerous corner used by at least 60 children going to and from school, had been overlooked. He urged that the P-T Council get in touch with city council to request that the corner be made into a playground crossing as soon as possible, a safety measure he felt would be well worth while.

The question of cars parking on school grounds was another traffic problem brought forward by both Conrad and King Edward Schools. P-T Council decided to call a meeting of its traffic committee consisting of Martin Stuart, Mrs. H. Flood, A. M. Hurst and J. P. Moller to act on these problems.

Foreign Trade Man is Dead

H. W. Brighton, Who Visited Prince Rupert Last Fall, Victim of Heart Attack

Harris W. Brighton, British Columbia representative of the Foreign Trade Service of the federal Department of Trade and Commerce, died suddenly last week in Vancouver following a heart attack. Last fall Mr. Brighton came north to make the trip to Juneau for the convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia. At that time he was actively interesting himself in the possibilities of the port of Prince Rupert for foreign shipping. He had expected to visit Prince Rupert again before long.

Local Norwegians Back in New York

Partly of 10 local Norwegians, who have been visiting their native homes in the Old Country since last fall, landed in New York Saturday from the liner Stavangerford and entrained last night from that city for home. They are expected to arrive here on Saturday night train. Jens Meen is one of the members of the group.

Cancer Clinic Planned Here

Diagnostic Centre at Prince Rupert—Mrs. Rothwell Heads Local Branch

Prince Rupert is to have a diagnostic clinic for suspected cancer sufferers, local unit of the Canadian Cancer Society was told Monday afternoon by R. C. Mills, Vancouver Executive secretary of the B. C. Branch of the Society at a re-organization meeting in the Civic Centre.

Addressing a gathering of 30 in the common lounge, the largest attendance since the formation of the organization almost three years ago, Mr. Mills revealed that a completely equipped diagnostic clinic will be set up by the society in Prince Rupert this year.

"It's purpose," he declared, "will not be to compete with the medical profession of this city, but to provide facilities for early diagnosis and treatment of the disease."

The clinic will be one of three to be set up throughout B. C. this year. Three more will be established in 1950.

Purpose of the Canadian Cancer Society, Mr. Mills said, is primarily two-fold—to educate the public on early recognition of cancer and to aid in providing services for persons of limited means in its treatment. For this, a cancer aid fund of $30,000 is available in British Columbia.

Leadership in the reorganization of the Prince Rupert Branch was taken by the Canadian Legion Women's Auxiliary, which volunteered several weeks ago to keep it going so that a $100 emergency fund might continue to be available for anyone requiring treatment at the Cancer Institute at Vancouver.

In addition to supplying transportation costs for those requiring financial assistance for diagnosis and treatment at Vancouver, the fund will also be used to provide a housekeeper for the families of women treated, as well as their support at a boarding or nursing home while in the south.

Annual fund raising campaign will take place throughout the province in April, Mr. Mills said. The Prince Rupert unit will be in charge of the drive in the city.

Mayor N. E. Arnold conducted the election of new officers and received a vote of thanks

"Someday" comes closer with every dollar you save

Most of us have to plan for the good things of life. And a big part of that planning is a matter of dollars and cents—of earmarking a certain part of our earnings for the things we want most.

It's not always easy, especially these days! But the fact remains that what you save is still the most important—the most satisfying—part of what you earn.

Are you hoping for something...or saving for it?
