THE ICEMEN COMETH-IN FORM OF NEW YORK RANGERS-Seems like only yesterday the boys were sweltering in the bleachers. And here it is hockey time again. The New York Rangers rang up the curtain with a battle against the Detroit Red Wings at Madison Square Garden in New York. The home-town fans were disappointed, for Detroit beat the Rangers 3-2. However, the team is handicapped through injuries sustained by star players in a bus accident at Montreal before the season opened. Here are Eddie Kullman, Edgar Laprade and Tony Leswick, expected to be the backbone of the Ranger sextet this season, chopping up the ice during practice.
