Celanese mill or no celanese mill, Prince Rupert will never go back to the old pre-war days. There is sound reason why even today the population of the city is fifty percent greater than it was in 1939.

FROM FOREST TO MILL—This is a typical log towing scene in Prince Rupert district. A flat raft, containing possibly a million feet, is shown being towed from a Queen Charlotte Island logging camp to a paper mill on the coast. Another mode of towing transport is by the piled Davis raft. So far this year Prince Rupert district has produced 132,000,000 board feet of logs and much of this has been from the Queen Charlotte Islands. SEINING—This is one of the principal methods of taking salmon, particularly the fall varieties of pinks and chums, for the canneries. The fish are trapped in the huge seine nets and scooped up in the seines to be hoisted into the holds of the packers.

There are developing properties such as the Silver Standard at Hazelton, which should not be forgotten.

Farming—The agricultural lands of the interior hinterland to Prince Rupert are again proving magnetic and the present season has been marked with the advent of a substantial number of new settlers from the United States and some of the European countries. For those on the land, this has been quite a favorable season and a satisfactory harvest is now in progress.

Alaska—Shipping relations with Alaska, after a lull, are on the upgrade again and, even with restrictions and hard competition, the nearest railhead at Prince Rupert is being favored with brisk traffic originating in the territory to the north. For many a year it was only fish that moved this way. Now lumber is being added to the list of the Alaskan commodities finding their way here for transshipment to the United States by the railway.

Tourists—The tourist business at Prince Rupert this year has been limited only by the facilities to handle it. By steamer, by railway and by highway they have come in their thousands and Prince Rupert has felt a benefit of which many of its business people have not been fully appreciative and which they have certainly made no special effort to cater to. Facilities for the accommodation, entertainment and exploitation of the tourist industry are not only a lack but a potential opportunity—an opportunity which outside interests may be expected to take advantage of soon if there is not the local initiative to do so.

Uncertainties and anxieties notwithstanding, 1948 has been proving a good year for Prince Rupert and the outlook for the future was never better or based upon a sounder foundation.

MONTREAL, Aug. 10th.—For all you lucky folks who are planning to see this summer's Toronto Exhibition . . . You'll find the "Ex" an "homest-om goodness" wonderland of fascinating things from all over the Dominion. In particular, I urge you to visit the VINYLITE PLASTICS display in the General Exhibits Building Number Two. Truly, it's the "world of the future" brought right to your present-day doorstep! You'll see Vinylite Plastic upholstered furniture—scuff-resistant, washable and Vinylite-by-the-yard for shower curtains, and table cloths. And I'm sure you'll come away with you for ever . . . I certainly did!

"Dream Stuff"
that what you'll say when you taste the first cake you make with SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR.
Such lightness . . . such soft, downy crumb! Marvelous. Of course, it's not surprising that even experienced cake-bakers get better results with Swans Down. Swans Down is made by long-time experts in the making of cake flour, expressly to make better cakes. Milled by a "Controlled Milling" process from choicest soft wheat, Swans Down is sifted again and again through silk until 27 times as fine as ordinary flour. For grand results—consistently—use Swans Down. Tested recipes on the package.

Isn't it Wonderful the way children love to collect? Parents are often amazed at the lengths they go to get the weirdest things! (And sometimes you wish they wouldn't!) But now, the Kellogg's people have designed a "collector's item" that you'll approve of as heartily as your children do! . . . Beautifully coloured bird pictures! There are 15 in the series, specially painted for Kellogg's by a leading Canadian artist. The pictures are little gems and the only place you'll find them is in KELLOGG'S KRUMBLE! And how your family will love Krumbles! . . . Crisp, curled and shredded whole wheat—a different flavour—a different form . . . and concentrated for extra nourishment!

Fair To Your Eyes? Few of us are . . . for it's hard to tell when your eyes are tired! You can't "hear" them complain even though they're hard at work all day long and half the evening . . . which is why it's your duty to look out for them! I advise two drops of MURINE in each eye night and morning and whenever your eyes tell you to! Though this is advisable all year 'round, it's especially important in Summer . . . since sun, wind, dust and light glare put an extra tax on your eyes. Murine contains 7 ingredients that blend with the natural eye fluids . . . cleansing and soothing delicate tissues gently as a tear, and relieving that strained feeling! So ask your Druggist for Murine today!
