

ABOUT EELS IN LAKE LAKE

Some say there are eels in Lake Lake and others say there is nothing of the kind—there, or anywhere else on the Pacific Coast. It will be recalled that a few months ago Elizabeth M. Whitlow, in a letter to Macleans, said she had seen eels at Lake Lake in the Queen country. Since then, another letter has appeared, signed ed by J. N. Allan of Vancouver, who goes on to say: "She has not. Mr. Labelle, in his excellent article "Slippery Business" is quite correct in saying there are no eels on the Pacific Coast. Four authority I refer to "Fishes of the Pacific Coast" by Dr. W. Clemens and G. V. Wilby, both renowned experts. What the lady saw and apparently ate, is the most repulsive lamprey.

Mr. and Mrs. Partington Entertain—Mrs. Henke President of Women's Christian Association

Mr. and Mrs. Reg Partington entertained about fifty guests in their home on Tuesday evening and all had a delightful time with various contests and games, some of which were very amusing. Tacked to the wall were silhouettes of all the ladies' faces and of two gentlemen and later on the guests were asked to write down the names of the persons in a list. This was amusing and only a few recognized their own. Refreshments were served at midnight, followed by more games and singing. The party broke up after 2 o'clock after a happy evening which will long be remembered by all who were there.

The Women's Christian Association held its annual meeting on Saturday afternoon at Mrs. Taft's home at Southbank. New officers for the new year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Earle Hanke; Vice-President, Mrs. Charles Millar; Secretary Treasurer, Jennifer Kelly. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Reg Partington's, the first Saturday in February.

When coming towards Burns Lake on Thursday morning the Grainger car, with Mr. and Mrs. Grainger and Barry, skidded near Clemetta and plunged down a steep slope. Fortunately it stopped when only about eighteen feet down and it did not turn over but faced down towards the lake. This happened about 10 o'clock in the morning and it was late afternoon when, with the help of a tractor and jeep, the car was hauled up onto the road again.

The service on Sunday morning was well attended and Rev. Atkinson preached an encouraging New Year sermon.

Mr. and Mrs. Sugden arrived home on Saturday from Vancouver where they spent the Christmas holidays. They visited Edith Bond (nee Keefe) and her little daughter Beverley Alice.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Rich have moved to the Landing. Mr. Rich is driving truck for Leonard Wheeler who now has five trucks on the road.
