Quiet Wedding At Court House

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Friday afternoon at the Court House by Marriage Commissioner George Brodie, when Marguerite Mary Peaker, North Vancouver, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Greaves of North Battleford, Sask., became the bride of George Leon King of Vancouver, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. King, Vancouver.

The bride, who was attired in a pink suit with accessories, wore a corsage of pink carnations. She was attended by Mrs. John Clausen of Prince Rupert, who was charming in a maize gown with green accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow and white mums.

The groom was attended by Jack Geddes of Vancouver.
The couple will reside in Prince Rupert, where the groom is in the employ of the Columbia Cellulose Co.

Next Few Days To Tell Tale

in the war in Korea, said Hon.
L. B. Pearson, minister of external affairs, in commenting yesterday on General MacArthur's new offensive.

Blackwood On Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

I saw my old friend Mr. Dale get burned the other day. He knew better. I suppose he just wasn't thinking.

Sitting at his left was a Mr. X, who was a chronic doubler. Mr. X fancies himself a very ferocious person. Just let the opponents get a little out of line and he pounces in for the kill.

won with the ace on the board.
A spade was returned and Mr.
Dale ruffed with the five of diamonds. Now he led the queen of hearts and followed with his last heart, Mr. Abel winning with the nine. On this trick Mr. X dropped the ten of clubs.

At this point Mr. Dale was through. Mr. Abel continued with a good heart which was ruffed in the closed hand with the eight of diamonds. Mr. X over-ruffed with the nine, led the king of diamonds, picking up Mr. Dale's last trump and spread his hand, which was all good. Mr.
Dale was down 300 points.

Mr. Champion was pretty tough about it. He told Mr. Dale not once but four times about the folly of taking a set when the opponents couldn't come close to making a game. Mr.
Dale took this well-earned criticism without complaint. But I noticed a certain look in his eyes and I settled back to see if he would get the revenge he wanted so badly. I didn't have long to wait. Monday I'll show you how he used Humanics to even up the score.

Most of us are reluctant to face unpalatable truths. That sensitive spot on our molar is probably just a temporary irritation; that twinge of pain in the region of the heart will no doubt go away if we give it time. Too many of us put off seeing our dentist or consulting our physician for a periodic check-up. Similarly, possibility of early death is an unpleasant fact that we try hard not to think about. Yet only two categories of people can afford to disregard such a contingency—those who have no dependents and those who have made, through life assurance, sufficient provision for their loved ones against the chance of untimely death. If you cannot conscientiously claim to be in either of these categories drop me a line
