Response to Red Cross Disappointing in Spite of Strong Local Appeal

TERRACE-James Stevenson, president of the local Red Cross Society, and Peter van Stolk, campaign manager, as well as the canvassers, are concerne over the lukewarm response the drive for funds is getting Terrace. With two weeks of the campaign past, and with very few more prospective donations to come in, the district is falling short of its quota of reached the collections made in 1948. In many cases the amount donated for membership is far smaller than in prevlous years.

With 40 percent more added to this year's campaign in consequence of the heavy demands ICON HEAD for Flood Relief upon the capital of the Red Cross, it is hoped that strenuous efforts on the part of the local people, always was crowded to capacity last such generous givers to a wor- night at the annual general thy cause, may put the cam- meeting of the local branch of paign over.
